INSTRUCTORS

Course I, Series VII

Gordon W. Chappell, FASLA

Gordon Chappell has taught the Landscape Design School for many years in several states. From Georgia, Gordon is a graduate of the University of Georgia, a former garden director at Colonial Williamsburg, and a Fellow in the American Society of Landscape Architecture. His private practice of landscape architecture in James City County focuses primarily on historic properties.

Jack Douglas, ASLA

Jack is the President and Founder of Douglas Associates, a professional landscape design and architecture firm in Richmond, VA. He taught as an instructor for the University of Richmond, Georgetown University and the University of Virginia. His garden designs have been featured in Southern Living and Southern Accents. Jack received a bachelor's degree in Landscape Architecture from the University of Georgia and a master's degree in Landscape Architecture from Harvard University.

Gerald Adams, Landscape Designer

Gerald is a landscape planner and designer with a keen interest in bringing the elements and principles of design to projects of all sizes and scales. He graduated with a BS degree from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. His expertise in landscape design led him to becoming the "Grounds Curator" at the North Carolina Governor's Mansion from 2003-2014. In this position he was responsible for garden tours and training garden docents that assisted with tours. He has presented garden programs at the NC Museum of History, taught garden classes at master gardener symposiums and spoken to over 50 garden clubs in the past 14 years. He is a regular guest on the WPTF 680 Weekend Gardener 3 hour radio program answering a wide range of garden questions. Currently, Gerald is the retail manager at Campbell Road Nursery where he conducts numerous garden classes each year.

Amy E. Strunk, Landscape Designer, PHD

Amy is owner and operator of "Amy Strunk Designs" in Chapel Hill, NC. She began her work as a landscape designer when she was just fifteen years old at Merrifield Garden Center in Northern Virginia in the Perennials Department and then the Trees & Shrubs Department. Eventually, the award-winning garden center took her on as a designer. Amy quickly realized that her true passion was rooted in the work she did at Merrifield; she went on to complete an advanced degree in sustainable landscape design. Amy holds a Master of Professional Studies in Landscape Design and Sustainable Landscapes from George Washington University and a Bachelor of Arts in Communications from The College of Charleston. Now, Amy is happily serving her own clients in the Chapel Hill area and when she's not hard at work designing for a client, you may find Amy and her husband Greg working in their own backyard, sharing the treasures of their eclectic garden with their son, Graham and their daughter, Finley. Amy's home reflects the graceful balance she creates for her clients-sustainable design that is generous with both beauty and the comforts of home.

Marshall Warren, Horticulture Extension Agent

Marshall grew up in the Nursery business with his parents. He graduated from North Carolina State University with a BS degree in Landscape Horticulture. After graduation, Marshall started his own business called "Landscape Creations, Inc.". The company worked mainly with residential design and installation until 2007. In 2010, Marshall became the Horticulture Extension Agent in Johnson County, NC.
