Cohen 2019 Bio

Dr. Samuel Cohen is an Assistant Professor of History at Sonoma State University in California and a 2019 Research Fellow at the Migration und Mobilität in Spätantike und Frühmittelalter DFG-Research group at the Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen. His research focuses on late antique Italy - more specifically, religious controversy and the Church of Rome. He has published on the religious landscape of Ostrogothic Italy, Roman martyrrial cemeteries, church rededications under Gregory the Great, the language of Roman polemical literature, and heresiology. He is currently working on a monograph about the rhetoric of heresy and the authority of Roman bishops in Late Antiquity and co-editing (with András Handl) Migration: Rhetoric and Reality in Late Antiquity, based on papers presented at the 2019 International Conference on Patristics Studies, held at Oxford University.

2019-2020 Scholarship:

“You have made common cause with the Persecutors”: The Language of Persecution and the Acacian Schism.” In Heirs of Roman Persecution: Studies on Christian Discourse in Late Antiquity, edited by Éric Fournier: Routledge, 2019.

“The non-funerary use of Cemetery Space in Late Antique Rome.” Late Antique Archaeology 13, (2019, forthcoming).

“Gregory the Great, Saint Severinus, and Reconciliation of an ecclesia arianorum.” Hagiotheca 6 (2019).