Cross the longer, right hand side over the top of the left.

Keep it moving up and under the left. Now, let him hang over your right shoulder.

Fig 4.

Take your little lefty hanging at the front and the fold him in half, so it makes the shape of a bow.

Fig 5.

Cross the longer, right hand side over the top of the left hand bow you've just made at the front.

Fig 5.

Now, fold the long, right hand bow that's hanging low in half. Keep a hold of it now.

Fig 5.

Bring the bow you've just made up behind the little lefty already folded in front.

Fig 6.

Poke him through and straighten him up by pulling the looped material on both sides tight.
