

It's a Brain Thing!

FASD Webinar Series

Do you support a child or adult with a Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder? NOFASD Australia and Oregon Behavior Consultation are partnering to bring Australian parents and foster carers a webinar series about Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders (FASD). In this series, we will talk about the various cognitive skill challenges people with FASD experience, and how we can practically support them in their everyday lives.

Watch When You Can

While we would love to have you attend our webinars live, we understand that this isn't always possible. The webinars will be available on demand after they air so that you can watch whenever it's convenient.

About the Trainer:

Nate Sheets is a behavior consultant and owner of Oregon Behavior Consultation. He specializes in helping families and caregivers of people with FASDs rethink behaviors, take steps to improve communication, and solve problems together. You can see his videos related to FASD at www.youtube.com/OregonBehavior.

Webinar #1: Skill Deficits Create Behaviors

In this webinar, we'll talk about how FASDs impact a person's cognitive and everyday skills, why it can be so difficult to support, and common responses we have to behaviors that may not be effective. You'll learn how to think ahead in order to anticipate difficulties, and how you can work with the person directly to be successful.

Webinar #2: Supporting Executive Functioning Skills

Executive Functioning Skills are a set of cognitive skills that help us to regulate our own behavior and learn new information. In this webinar, we'll talk about what it is like for people with FASDs who don't have these skills, and how we can provide practical supports for them.

Webinar #3: Supporting Communication, Memory, and Processing Skills

People with FASDs struggle with skills in all areas of the brain. In this webinar, we'll focus on the unique communication strengths and challenges people with FASDs experience, and how we can give them the tools they need to improve and interact with others safely and appropriately.

Ongoing Support

A private Facebook group will be set up for registrants of the webinar training to give and receive support to one another, and to help each other apply the strategies learned to their unique situations.
