

CORMORANT ISLAND

Tides of Change

Resident Survey (Report)

December 2014

From September to December 2014, residents of Cormorant Island were asked to provide their feedback on the local economy (what works, what doesn't, and what should be done to improve things).

- 170 people filled out the survey, including
- 35 business owners
- Of the people that filled out the survey, 37% were from 'Namgis First Nation and 63% were from the Village

There is a lot of very interesting and useful feedback. Please read through this document to see what your fellow Islanders think!

Highlights and analysis

The following pages show the ‘raw’ answers from community members. Because so many people took the time to answer the questions, it is a lot to read through!

This page provides some brief highlights.

What are your OBJECTIVES for economic development?

The top three reasons are shown below. These will be used to help evaluate actions ideas (to see how well they achieve these objectives).

1. Attract new business
2. Increase number of local entrepreneurs and managers
3. Create good jobs

Top 3 Strengths:

1. Water, air and land quality
2. Sense of community
3. Access to hospitals and health care

We asked this question so we can make sure that we preserve and build on the strengths of the island.

Top 3 Weaknesses:

1. Restaurants, cafes and eateries
2. Places to shop
3. Availability of qualified workers

We asked this question so that we know what barriers there are to economic development, and what areas require targeted support.

How’s business?

Business owners from ‘Namgis First Nation mostly said that business was getting worse, whereas businesses in the Village were much more likely to say that it was getting better.

What ideas were most popular?

- In terms of ‘big ideas’, there was almost equal support for harbour redevelopment, and for the redevelopment of the St. George’s nursing site.
- Very popular ideas included
  - A fuel dock
  - Traditional foods kiosk/restaurant
  - Fish smoking facility
  - A nice resort
  - Support for entrepreneurs (retail space, business incubators, etc.)

Potential business owners

About half of the respondents said that they had thought of opening a business, and that the biggest barriers were funding, help with writing proposals, and ‘everything!’.

Q.8. What are the three greatest strengths and weaknesses of Cormorant Island? (please pick three in the strengths column and three in the weaknesses column)

Answered: 142 Skipped: 14

Answers:

Top 3 Strengths:

1. Water, air and land quality
2. Sense of community
3. Access to hospitals and health care

Top 3 weaknesses:

1. Restaurants, cafes and eateries
2. Places to shop
3. Availability of qualified workers

Do you have other strengths or weaknesses that are not included in the list above?

Strengths:

- The international cultural value of this artists community should not be underestimated
- Community support in local Culture
- Strengths besides the one above are friendliness, cultural strength of First Nation, Alert bay and 'Namgis Accord
- Positives: Lack of chain-store commercialism. Cooperation between 'Namgis and Village. Negatives: Higher and higher ferry costs. 'Namgis focus job creation activities on Vancouver Island
- Strength is culture of First Nations and friendliness of residents

Weaknesses:

- Socializing, lack of activities, clean social events ( i.e coffee house)
- Lacking public swimming pool & skating arena & should have a cannery to support our fisherman
- No Recreation swimming or skating- this is a major weakness as my family travels for this
- Lack of non native work education programs
- All poor except water air and land quality
- Lack of banking institution
- Pride of ownership not everyone but a lot of people.

- qualified workers in terms of trades.
- Ferry is too expensive
- Lack of training opportunity for food , tourism.
- Lack of training for tourism health space farming
- Clean up Nimkish hotel(trees) and property across street from hotel
- social club, banks, social activities
- Variety of food available in stores
- Lack of community awareness of specific tourism knowledge
- The unwillingness of all three entities on Cormorant Island to cooperate and work together is a weakness. Information exchange, notifications. Not all the time but sometimes it is a challenge.
  - hard to finds jobs.
  - availability of arts and culture (film, live music etc) weakness
  - Lack of teen crime accountability, unrealistic house prices, cost of fuel and food and ferries, buildings unoccupied are weaknesses.
    - Availability of retail clothing and footwear is a weakness. The lack of health care specialists, e.g. Physical Therapist, Massage Therapist, Optometrist is a weakness.
      - re places to shop, it's getting slightly better as the drug store starts to carry more general store type stock. shoprite is useless from that pov and not responsive.
      - Lack of steady employment (weakness), lack of financial institution (weakness), sewage treatment (strength),

| 36 | The cost of business. For example getting equipment and/or supplies take a lot of the bottom line because of the remoteness of the island i.e. Ferry costs, travel costs. These costs would have to pass on to the customer ultimately limiting affordability for some because of the lack of access to work and education opportunities.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 10/29/2014 11:25 PM |

| 42 | Hours that shopping is available. It would be nice to go out for a coffee at night. Go grocery shopping after dinner. Pick up my prescription or a birthday card at lunch. A community centre for all of Alert Bay where people positively plan and organize events for holidays like Easter, Christmas, Canada Day...etc etc. I know events are planned but it'd be nice to combine so it's not just one group doing their thing and another group doing theirs.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 10/29/2014 4:08 PM  |

| 47 | Not sure. One might say the location - it is more 'remote' than say towns further down island. The ferry some might say - accessibility to getting supplies onto island and people coming/going. At the heart of the question, is the economic development hindered by quality of business already in place. ie reliability of food service (ie restaurant food service - ie: the time of how long it takes to prepare food), grocery produce quality/selection/availability. Those are big things of business already in place - that are in my eyes failing customers. Sometimes I think what could hinder economic development is the sense that people 'get what they get on an island' - why not rise to the occasion and provide excellent service? | 10/28/2014 9:50 PM  |

| 113 | Lack of accommodations is a weakness in my eyes. I think that especially in high volume weekends (i.e. Seafest, June Sports, potlatches, and other events) would help bring in business if the band and village had a hotel, or even resort. A spa and resort might sound a little high class, but if promoted properly, could be a good business to invest in. It would require masseuses, front desk workers, cleaners, a handy man, and other workers. It would cater to people who are looking to treat each other to a nice relaxing day at the spa.                                                                                                                                                                                     | 10/22/2014 2:13 PM  |

| 124 | Lack of momentum and community leadership. Economic development requires money up front, either from the private or public sector. Because we are a small community there is a challenge to attract money because of the concern about return on investment with such a small population base if it is a service based project. On the other hand, a production based project shouldn't be hindered by the population size. | 10/15/2014 2:32 PM  |

| 133 | A small population made up primarily of retirees and people who live in poverty cannot support the range of businesses and services required to 1) attract young families ('Namgis returnees and newcomers). I beleive a population of around 2000 is required to make the island economically sustainable.                                                                                                                 | 9/11/2014 3:35 PM   |

Q10 What is your vision for economic development on the island? What do you WANT to see in the next 10 years? What do you NOT want to see?

| 9  | Beautification project to draw tourism to alert buy year round . more tourism. Don't want to see more stores without having another option.( ie. no grocery if shopntc closes)                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 12/11/2014 7:00 PM |
| 10 | More jobs for youth.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 12/11/2014 6:36 PM |
| 11 | More tourism than just U'mista. Ideas for revitalization: St. George's: Building could become assisted living, with commercial greenhouses and/or commercial kitchen for freezing/canning along the fence Old oyster plant on reserve: Could be a place for canning, smoking, drying of fish Old BC Hydro building: Saturday market. Tommy Brown's building: Would be a good carving workshop. | 11/17/2014 2:41 PM |
| 12 | opportunities for young families to live here                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 11/7/2014 7:51 PM  |
| 13 | I would like to see another restaurant open up. Turn Yellow Bluff into green houses, and/or a medical grade commercial cannabis grow-op. I I believe we could also produce a local currency system such as what they use on Quadra Island.                                                                                                                                                     | 11/6/2014 5:43 PM  |
| 14 | I would like to see a large apartment building built to hold at least 50 families. A skating rink, swimming pool, a fish, prawn, clam, halibut processing plant established to sustain employment to many families. A fuel dock to have boaters stop at.                                                                                                                                       | 11/5/2014 7:22 PM  |
| 15 | Tourism, stores, co-op, vibrant community that is safe. Drug free on the reserve.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 11/5/2014 4:23 PM  |
| 16 | I would want to see a swimming pool, especially for us workers who could use some physio therapy & elders health. Also skating rink & to have some hockey tournaments held here. It would get just as big as when we have our soccer tournaments. Also a small convenience store that is open till 10 or 11pm, so we can pick up milk or eggs if we missed the store.                          | 11/4/2014 10:44 PM |
| 17 | I would like to see more equal employment opportunities and less people on the welfare system that abuse it. More street lights would be nice                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 11/3/2014 11:47 AM |
| 18 | Resorts, better grocery store, tourism, a reulthier looking community. Not: What we have now.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 11/1/2014 10:35 AM |
| 19 | My vision is to see more tourists and fishermen attract on.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 11/1/2014 10:22 AM |
| 20 | I want more job opportunity.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 11/1/2014 10:13 AM |
| 21 | I would like 2-3 more accommodation. | 27 | I would like to see more social enterprises. More access to food resources, like a food co-op. So that members can have affordable food sources.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 10/31/2014 12:39 PM |

| 38 | I want to see healthy places to eat. I want to see the St George's Nurses site be turned into a hotel...as originally thought of...10 years ago - I want to see money pouring into Alert Bay. - World Renowned Tourism Hotel and Spa - World Renowned Outward Bound Treatment facility for Youth and young people and celebrities - one of a kind Job security for people to have the opportunity to move forward - Health care - costs money - Treatment that lasts 6 months vs 6 weeks Affordable food Local gardens to supply the island with fresh vegetables T'Sou-ke Nation is growing Wasabi...why doesn't Namgis start producing something - to GENERATE REVENUE for the locals...not for future OSG/Kokish/Hatchery/farm fish..... I don't want to see our Nation get any more fishing licenses....sure its great for those who fish...but most don't fish anymore.....the band is favouring its fishers...and its not fair to everyone else. - Crafts....sewing, knitting, wood working, etc. Value added products - makes money. We have a processing plant - sitting there with furniture from repossessed houses...this is wrong. Put that plant and our people to work! We are lucky to still be able to harvest food....canned clams, fish, mussels, crab, etc. Solar panels - Wind Power - Tidal Power - I don't want to see any more Bars in Alert Bay I don't want to see any more drug dealers in Alert Bay | 10/29/2014 4:18 PM  |

| 40 | I would like to see tourism embraced more as it is a huge source of income and some less desirable establishments made presentable (bayside is as rough as it looks first impressions matter)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 10/29/2014 1:53 PM  |
| 41 | I want more than development on the island I would like to see our community expand to our traditional territory. But for the island sustainable restaurants, grocery store with affordable prices for all community members. A conference centre for hosting small and large meetings. And making modifications to the recreation centre with proper storage and no longer used for funerals.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 10/29/2014 11:56 AM |

| 98  | I go home an see so much depression..displaced fishermen/women with welfare to look forward to... addictions an crime .. give them something to look forward to. help the ones want l g to work get jobs. I see my dad working hard with NO help from the band an elder who could teach others how it's done. I see many that can log fish but don't becuz transportation or vessel is unavailable to get them out there to be employed.. find ways to get families to their much needed appointments without the stress of no /little funds. tap into people who are on the island instead of waiting hotel money all over the place. ideas are always there but.. where do they go. | 10/23/2014 12:26 PM |

| 109 | We have so many tourists that come to our Island but are left to their own devices to view the richness of this community. They leave with only a cursory understanding of what Alert Bay really is. The stories our long time community members have, our First Nations Elders have. I don't think just sitting in the U'mista gives them the flavour and rich history of the community.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 10/17/2014 9:54 AM  |

| 116 | 1) A community garden and a market garden. Since 2013 there have been meetings about this and no action, as yet, at the Smiity's Hill location. Cormorant Island must create solid food sustainability operations ASAP, not just on paper. In two years, since the Cormorant Island Community Garden was dismantled there has been no alternative site accessible to our community. 2) A restaurant that is clean, affordable, reliable, and open regular hours; serving healthy, nutritious foods. 3) I'd like to see a clothing retail store where a person can buy general clothing and footwear. 4) I'd like to see a natural foods store with access to ordering bulk organic foods along with 5) A new store that is clean, well-maintained, and affordable, with less emphasis on pop and chips. 6) The return of Canada Post open on Saturdays or a postal outlet that IS open on Saturdays.6) An indoor performing arts venue for out island for theatre, music, and art installations that is accessible to families and all community members as an alternative to the large LAM Rec or community hall, or Legion. | 10/4/2014 7:46 AM   |

| 118 | A grocery store that has decent prices for everyone. Shop Rite is an absolute rip off - the owners are no better than Jim Pattison - they are all about themselves. Preferably a band owned business. Rec Centre and Community Hall with qualified people running activities for all community members.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 9/29/2014 2:26 PM   |
| 119 | I would hate to see the island become dependent on the capricious whims of the tourism industry. And keep casinos away.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 9/20/2014 1:13 PM   |
| 120 | I'd like to see Alert Bay become more of a destination for tourists. I'd like to see some of the uglier properties cleaned up. I do not want to see Alert Bay become industrial.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 9/16/2014 10:40 PM  |

| 2  | I believe that there is a possibility of a micro-farm doing good on the island.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 11/6/2014 5:43 PM   |
| 3  | I currently work youth & frequently see what they struggle with & I believe these key factors would help to diversify to amount of activities & employment opportunities. I see many travel off the island to do these swimming & skating activities & are moving away to have access to these areas. My family also travels across to Port McNeill for 3 children to do their activities & I can tell you that I easily spend a $100.00 each trip! That is money being taken from our own community! Some thing that is also affecting whether I want to continue to live here too.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 11/5/2014 7:22 PM   |

| 8  | I always thought it'd be awesome to have a resort for sport fishing, spa and cultural activities. Inclusion of our people to help and also to keep culture going. Looking at positive ways of showcasing our people. I think if we had somewhere for people to stay and enjoy such things it would attract more tourism. I noticed there was a real lack of tourists staying for the night rushing for the ferry because they came for a quick visit. Making that campground more efficient where the roads aren't so bad and having electrical on campsites and WIFI and bathrooms. Someone who stays on site for the season. Maybe even tourism packages where people come and stay, get a personal tour of the Island or come for sport fishing for the day. Boosting our economy because they are eating at our restaurants and buying groceries here. | 10/29/2014 4:19 PM  |
| 9  | I object to our Nation making farm fish. Our Nation needs to start supporting its members and quit investing in projects that will never benefit its people. OSG - what are we benefiting from that merger?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 10/29/2014 4:18 PM  |
| 10 | the community spirit on our island is pretty neat I think we should support locals as much as possible especially small businesses                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 10/29/2014 1:53 PM  |

| 8  | murals are are a really bad idea: they're cliché, usually badly done, and cheesy. Entrepreneurship courses are only useful when the idea already exists. Suggest instead having a short session on business ideas, and what are the elements that would be need to make them happen and succeed (rather than telling people in general terms what are entrepreneurship skills and tasks.) | 10/4/2014 4:23 AM   |
| 9  | Self sufficient local agriculture: we need to start growing our own food. We need to take pride in being able to take care of ourselves. We need to be less dependent on food brought onto the island. It will help the economy. It will help our health.                                                                                                                                 | 9/20/2014 1:23 PM   |
| 10 | These projects are not important. Bigger, more strategic efforts are necessary: new downtown area jointly developed, increase size of Alert Bay small boat harbour with marine fuel and ice, new Alert Bay museum, expanded U'mista...etc.                                                                                                                                                | 9/11/2014 3:57 PM   |

| 73 | A few days here is enough for most visitors.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 10/22/2014 1:18 PM  |
| 74 | Cabins reasonably priced, coffee muffin shop.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 10/22/2014 12:33 PM |
| 75 | Science interaction centre that runs year round and follows the Kwakwaka'wakw calendar for the traditional events and offer learning opportunities to explore the lifestyle of the local population.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 10/22/2014 12:32 PM |
| 76 | First things first: Food + Shelter. We have few places to stay and fewer places to eat. I feel we badly need to expand our available culinary palette and provide seafood to visitors. Crabs mussels calms oysters prawns geoduck all variety of fishes and greens from our local bounty. Not just the two cash crops, Salmon and Halibut, which are delicious and we are spoiled, but there are so many more fish in the sea. We should invite some asian chefs perhaps. People do not travel from Germany and Japan to taste the Baron of Beef, they want to taste the Pacific. A conscious locavore food culture motivates young people these days. Sustainable lifestyle is everything. It is a political and ethical decision that, if significant gestures were made here, as was done with Kuterra, a food emphasis would attract the right kinds of attention. I think. | 10/20/2014 9:10 PM  |
| 77 | We need to do a "tourism" assessment to see what is available to show case, that is now being missed by tourist that come in. I see tourists walking around and are back waiting for the next ferry. What are they missing and if they did see more would they spend more than one ferry sailing. This would mean a meal and more shopping instead of going back to Port McNeill to have dinner...                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 10/17/2014 10:06 AM |

| 80 | I think Alert Bay is a great destination for a centre as described above. People will stay if there are things for them to do                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 10/15/2014 2:40 PM  |

| 35 | I also insist the Traditional Foods feast house is a necessity, but not without the farm and the genius fish-smoking facility. The importance of the carvers should not be underestimated - they draw an enormous amount of international academic attention, whether we recognize them here or not - their dedicated work and cultural contribution is a big draw for this place and should be celebrated as such. All ideas listed sound good to me. | 10/20/2014 9:10 PM  |

Q17 Ideally we want to pick one big strategy to move ahead with. A strategy is a grouping of actions that has both short term and long term components, and will help us meet multiple objectives. Which of the following 'big strategies' do you like best? Or, tell us another strategy that you like.

| 16 | I also really like the Healing Retreat Center idea, but agree the harbour services may possibly be worth more, long term revenue-wise. I would really love to see the Cetas lab re-opened for monitoring science, and a resident food-safety inspection lab, so our fish doesn't need to go to Nanaimo to be stamped and shipped back frozen and wrapped in plastic. That just seems so wasteful and unnecessary and economically debilitating, to my eyes. Small wharfside fish market would be fantastic. Oceanogaphy and fisheries interpretive center, tide pool petting zoo, sister to Telegraph Cove's cetacean museum, would be so fantastic. | 10/20/2014 9:10 PM  |
| 17 | Fuel dock is essential.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 10/10/2014 8:08 PM  |
| 18 | At one time there was a plan to build housing and gardens at the old St. George's hospital site. It is a large property that is currently unsightly and unused. It has the potential of being a wonderful economic enhancement to our community have condos or time-share accommodations, shops, resturaunt, coffee shop, retail clothing and footwear, tourism focus on First People's culture, local affordable housing, community garden, a spa and treatment centre, including a pool and sauna available to local residents, a year-round facility for performing arts (concerts, dance, art installations).                                    | 10/4/2014 8:11 AM   |
| 19 | No downtown redev. Before a tourism push, need to have more to offer. Either harbour or St George's would be fantastic!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 10/4/2014 4:23 AM   |
| 20 | Depending on who is going to be in charge - who would call the shots.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 9/29/2014 2:33 PM   |
| 21 | I like all of these but some of the things under each one are not as important as some of the others                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 9/16/2014 10:46 PM  |
| 22 | Harbour development and downtown...we could handle both                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 9/11/2014 3:57 PM   |

| 37 | Not sure of an immediate idea..but what about: Think of working from bottom-up, long term strategy. Keep children engaged and active. Ensure that there is more recreation on island for kids. ie outdoor pool for swim lessons? gymnastics - can an instructor come to town? Keep kids active and inspired to be part of their community and they will want to stay and be productive...or they may move away but still be great citizens. | 10/28/2014 9:59 PM  |

| 97  | Use our strengths. We have rich soil and a long growing season and plentiful access to fish and wood. But no secondary industries. We should be value-adding, upmarketing our raw materials. The fish-smoking plant sounds brilliant. 'Namgis could be exporting and profiting substantially from its treasured foodstuffs packed and preserved for specialty urban markets and province wide aboriginal catering companies. Focus on what we do well already. Feasting is a specialty in the bighouse, but neglected in the village. We can fix that, and i believe if we expand the menu to traditional foods, people will come. No one else is doing it. It's a huge and conspicuous vacuum in the marketplace, in my view. | 10/20/2014 9:10 PM  |

| 100 | Advertise widely but ensure that services such as places to eat are there for visitors. Find out what businesses people want to open and assist them in finding out how to train and what funding is required. Create a new centre such as the healing centre at the old hospital and then do joint promotion of it. It is basic that there be places that are open for visitors to eat and that there are adequate places to accommodate them. Do a survey asking what kind of skills workshops people are needing.                                                                                                                                                                                                           | 10/10/2014 8:08 PM  |

Alcohol and drug addictions are an enormous problem in our community. This needs to be addressed before we can move ahead with increasing our economic and sustainability plans.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 10/4/2014 8:11 AM   |

| 104 | Put their minds together to build a complex - where there could be a grocery store; a coffee shop; arts & crafts/culture for sale. I don't believe the Nurses' Residence is a good place. Like the residential school - it should come down. They cost far too much to fix and operate. Start fresh - cheaper in the long run to build new places.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             | 9/29/2014 2:33 PM   |

| 106 | There are some really good ideas here but whatever gets chosen it must revolve around bringing people to the island so therefore must be ocean related.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 9/16/2014 10:46 PM  |
| 107 | Set out a 10 years worth of projects that they would each do either indepently or together, and get on with it.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 9/11/2014 3:57 PM   |

| 24 | I am an independent artist and amateur scientist, with some psychological handicaps, so i tend to volunteer full time and get paid for technician's labour very part time. Far from ideal, but the best I can muster under present economic paradigms. A guaranteed annual income to produce for the common interest would be optimal. | 10/20/2014 9:16 PM  |

| 23 | Had a business had to close due to health.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | 10/24/2014 9:55 AM  |
| 24 | I did have a small business for 5 years, business development have workshop (port mcneill) a great help course. I had to financial assistance product markets off on Island but was too time consuming for 1 person. (Baby qualities). Small business best with 2 or more people. | 10/23/2014 9:20 PM  |
| 25 | no i havent thought about stating my own busines                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 10/22/2014 2:30 PM  |
| 26 | Management and development collaboration for some of my economic development initiative project proposals would be well welcomed.                                                                                                                                                 | 10/20/2014 9:16 PM  |
| 27 | I am too busy to start a new business. But getting a group of like minded entrepreneurs together to brainstorm would be a good regular gathering.                                                                                                                                 | 10/17/2014 10:10 AM |
