The Andy Roddick Foundation provides access to high quality (HQ) learning and enrichment for children and youth during OUT OF SCHOOL TIME (OST). The Foundation serves children and youth who are most at risk of falling behind, such as low-income students and English language learners. HQ OST means a low student-teacher ratio, highly qualified and trained teachers, and whole-child, hands-on learning.

Whether social and emotional development, school day participation, family engagement or academic performance, students who participate in the Foundation’s HQ OST programs outpace their peers. It’s time we started talking out of school and supporting access to HQ OST for all children and youth.

Students Outperform Their Peers on STAAR Test*

- Reading: 79% outperforming peers
- Math: 82% outperforming peers
- Writing: 75% outperforming peers
- Science: 80% outperforming peers

Students Improve Peer Relations and Families Maintain or Improve Involvement in Their Education*

- Teamwork: 97% of families increased or maintained feeling involved in their child’s education.

Students Have Higher Daily School Attendance Than Their Peers*

- Reading: 96.6%
- Math: 94.6%
- Writing: 94.5%
- Science: 95.6%

LEGEND

- ARF Participating Student
- Non-Participating Student at the Same School
- Non-Participating Student in the Same Feeder Pattern
- Non-Participating Student in Austin ISD
- Non-Participating Student in Austin ISD (not matched on income or ethnicity)

* Based on cohort of students participating in the 2017 Summer Learning Program and the 2017-18 Afterschool Program

RATING

- Reading
- Math
- Writing
- Science

TEAMWORK

- SOCIAL EMOTIONAL SKILLS
- FAMILY ENGAGEMENT

- From start of summer to the end of the school year, students showed a statistically significant increase in peer relations, moving from 3.1 to 3.4 on a 4-point scale.

- Of those families enrolled all year, 97% of guardians increased or maintained feeling involved in their child’s education.

ANDY RODDICK FOUNDATION
HIGH QUALITY OUT OF SCHOOL TIME

KNOW. GIVE. REPEAT. • ARFOUNDATION.ORG