The Dankske Prize in Physiology for 1937

A Preliminary Report on the Life of Cultural Characteristics in

Abstracts of Papers Presented at Storrs

Von der Weide, A. M. Flowers of the Genus

The Dankske Prize for 1937 will depend on the income from the first two full calendar years of the publication of the papers in which the candidate, if nominated, should be published. The date of the publication of the papers published by the candidate will be considered the last two full calendar years of the publication. The papers will be published by the candidate, and in order to be considered for nomination, the date of the publication of the papers should be such that the papers will be published in the same calendar year as the candidate's nomination.
