

DONATE YOUR STRINGS TO MUSICIANS IN NEED.

Worldwide, tens of thousands of musicians and students enrolled in music programs face a shortage of strings for their instruments. Many use telephone wire instead, while miles of still usable strings are buried in our landfills. THE OPEN STRING brings donated musical supplies to musicians across continents, from Argentina to Kenya to India.

If your used strings are not rusty or frayed, they can still serve musicians in need. Send them to us, not to the landfill! We'll give them new life. And consider changing your strings early or even gifting new ones.

GO FOR IT NOW! IT'S EASY.
