Wayne RESA and Great Start Collaborative Wayne have completed the work to establish Detroit and Wayne County as part of the national “Talking is Teaching—Talk, Read, Sing” Campaign. Home visitors can help assure that families not only understand the importance of early brain development on all future learning, but also have the information and tools to nurture learning from the minute their babies are born. Please join us as we train home visitors and community leaders to be trusted messengers of the Talking is Teaching message in our efforts to increase literacy in Wayne County.

Online registration is available at www.greatstartwayne.org. Click on the yellow bar at the top for the events registration calendar. Go to February 27 and complete the registration.
