HAIR REMOVAL & SKIN REJUVENATION

How does light assisted hair removal work?

Light is selectively absorbed by melanin, the pigment in the hair follicle.

The light energy heats the pigment and effectively destroys the hair follicle without damaging the surrounding cells.

How does IPL work for skin rejuvenation?

Precise controlled short pulses of light are released to target discolouration

(Red spots or brown lesions) to create a more youthful and even complexion. In addition this light results in stimulation of the fibroblast cells, leading to increased production of collagen and elastin.
