“Registration is Open!” SCAC Provides Only Inner City Summer Competitive Volleyball Camp to Chicago

CHICAGO, June 25, 2015 – The Saint Columbanus Athletic Center (SCAC), the athletic ministry of St. Columbanus Parish, summer volleyball camp is open for registration! SCAC will hold its six week summer program instructed by Waldorf High School’s coach Shannon Currie. Currie, trained by Gold Medal Olympian Pat Powers, will deliver two, three hour sessions per week starting Thursday & Friday of June 25th through July 31st at 7140 S. Calumet Ave. Camp starts at 10am-1pm with fees fluctuating from $25 per week to $150 for full program. Program is open to girls and boys in grades 4th through 12th.

Sessions will focus on the fundamentals of volleyball such as learning player positions and developing sportsmanship while playing as a team and obtaining the skills necessary to reach success with such vigorous sport.

“Whether you are a novice or a seasoned player seeking enhancement in your craft, this camp is for you,” said Shannon Currie. “We eagerly encourage Individuals and teams to sign up.”

As a program favor, the first 20 students to sign up will receive complete warm up gear. Giveaways will also be distributed throughout the program from one of the most influential Athletic gear Brands Under Armour.

For more information or to register visit www.stcolumbanuschicago.org by clicking Athletic Center, then the Camp/Clinic tab. Payments via school/program check and/or money order only. Personal Checks are not accepted.

About St. Columbanus Parish/St. Columbanus Athletic Center

Founded in 1909, one of the oldest African American Catholic Parishes in Chicago, the combination church and school building was built in the Park Manor neighborhood. In today's society, The primary purpose of the SCAC is to enhance and develop values that foster leadership, self-discipline, sportsmanship, and teamwork while providing a safe, nurturing, and athletically challenging environment for student athletes. Home to basketball, track, and volleyball leagues, SCAC prides their organization on diversity.

"We are diverse in backgrounds, race, and religion, but when our teams enter the domains of SCAC, we are on one accord."
