Each summer, PAL successfully provides NYC kids with Summer Camp PAL Playstreets. The number of participants, which has been growing year by year, is testament to the program’s success. With a perfect balance of arts, athletics and academics, campers are provided with positive peer interactions which productively prepared them for a brand new school year. In conjunction with your support, PAL’s staff worked toward a common summer learning goal: the academic success and development of our students. Our 2017 Summer Camp season was “Here (Out) Around the World.” Each day campers learned about a different global culture and then performed at the annual Culture Celebration on August 11th, and the Middle School Pennant event which took place on July 27th.

Officer Anderson has been a successful PAL child, a PAL volunteer and a PAL Police Officer. He receives a sense of accomplishment when he sees his mentee’s growth. It’s a rewarding feeling when you see a young person flourish. Officer Anderson is a role model to others, having given back to PAL.

When Officer Anderson was a child, PAL staff and NYPD volunteers influenced his educational growth. He now wants to influence the educational growth of others. Officer Anderson not only provides PAL kids with a safe summer of academic enrichment and fun. You really are the best friend a kid can have.

Because of your support we are able to provide our campers with a safe summer of academic enrichment and fun. Your support will continue to fulfill his commitment to PAL kids for years to come. Officer Anderson is a role model to others, having given back to PAL.

The Police Athletic League, along with supporters like you, have dedicated over a century of service to the kids of New York City. Together we have created safe spaces to support the emotional and social development of each child while also promoting their academic growth. Over time, PAL students have shown increased self-esteem, improved engagement in school and increased physical activities, but with almost 30 percent of NYC children living in poverty, our work is just as crucial now as it was 110 years ago.

The Police Athletic League, along with supporters like you, have dedicated over a century of service to the kids of New York City. Together we have created safe spaces to support the emotional and social development of each child while also promoting their academic growth. Over time, PAL students have shown increased self-esteem, improved engagement in school and increased physical activities, but with almost 30 percent of NYC children living in poverty, our work is just as crucial now as it was 110 years ago.

The Police Athletic League, along with supporters like you, have dedicated over a century of service to the kids of New York City. Together we have created safe spaces to support the emotional and social development of each child while also promoting their academic growth. Over time, PAL students have shown increased self-esteem, improved engagement in school and increased physical activities, but with almost 30 percent of NYC children living in poverty, our work is just as crucial now as it was 110 years ago.

The Police Athletic League, along with supporters like you, have dedicated over a century of service to the kids of New York City. Together we have created safe spaces to support the emotional and social development of each child while also promoting their academic growth. Over time, PAL students have shown increased self-esteem, improved engagement in school and increased physical activities, but with almost 30 percent of NYC children living in poverty, our work is just as crucial now as it was 110 years ago.

The Police Athletic League, along with supporters like you, have dedicated over a century of service to the kids of New York City. Together we have created safe spaces to support the emotional and social development of each child while also promoting their academic growth. Over time, PAL students have shown increased self-esteem, improved engagement in school and increased physical activities, but with almost 30 percent of NYC children living in poverty, our work is just as crucial now as it was 110 years ago.
Each summer, PAL successfully provides NYC kids with Summer Day Camps at 31 PAL Centers throughout the city. This year, PAL extended its summer programming with the expansion of PAL Playstreets to 13 citywide centers.

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERS

The Police Athletic League, along with supporters like you, have dedicated over a century of service to the kids of New York City. Together we have created safe spaces to support the emotional and social development of each child while also promoting their academic success. Over time, PAL after-school participants have developed increased self-esteem, improved engagement in school and increased physical activities, but with almost 30 percent of NYC children living in poverty, our work is just as crucial now as it was 110 years ago.

Jill Moore is a former Banker who found her calling in youth development after leaving Lehman Brothers to join Goldie Maple Community Center in Queens, and has been a member of that same community for 30 years. Ms. Moore understands the importance of engaging the youth, especially when neighbor-hoods face serious obstacles. As an example, she told the story of a young boy who played on Ms. Moore’s after-school basketball program at Goldie Maple at age 9 and with his continued support, has moved on to a successful basketball career.

The Police Athletic League is the proud sponsor of the PAL Playstreets program. PAL Playstreets is a citywide initiative of the Police Athletic League to provide after-school educational and recreational opportunities to 1,500 high-risk NYC kids with Summer Day Camps, free of charge.

We thank you for making PAL a best friend to kids growing up now.

Jill Moore, formerly a Banker, who found her calling in youth development after leaving Lehman Brothers to join Goldie Maple Community Center in Queens, and has been a member of that same community for 30 years. Ms. Moore understands the importance of engaging the youth, especially when neighborhood faces serious obstacles. As an example, she told the story of a young boy who played on Ms. Moore’s after-school basketball program at Goldie Maple at age 9 and with his continued support, has moved on to a successful basketball career.

The Police Athletic League is the proud sponsor of the PAL Playstreets program. PAL Playstreets is a citywide initiative of the Police Athletic League to provide after-school educational and recreational opportunities to 1,500 high-risk NYC kids with Summer Day Camps, free of charge.

We thank you for making PAL a best friend to kids growing up now.

Jill Moore, formerly a Banker, who found her calling in youth development after leaving Lehman Brothers to join Goldie Maple Community Center in Queens, and has been a member of that same community for 30 years. Ms. Moore understands the importance of engaging the youth, especially when neighborhood faces serious obstacles. As an example, she told the story of a young boy who played on Ms. Moore’s after-school basketball program at Goldie Maple at age 9 and with his continued support, has moved on to a successful basketball career.

The Police Athletic League is the proud sponsor of the PAL Playstreets program. PAL Playstreets is a citywide initiative of the Police Athletic League to provide after-school educational and recreational opportunities to 1,500 high-risk NYC kids with Summer Day Camps, free of charge.

We thank you for making PAL a best friend to kids growing up now.
MIGUEL BALBUENA, DIRECTOR OF SCHOOL BASED CENTERS
QUINCY DUNLAP, DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY CENTERS

"An investment into PAL is an investment into a potential success!" - Quincy Dunlap

PAL recently held our premier gala, the 45th Annual Gala, on September 7 at the Forum Honoring David Brill, of Brill Orosz & Colodner, Inc. This event served as an opportunity to gather friends and supporters to celebrate PAL’s progress and its impact on the community.

PAL knows that the majority of our supporters have faith that吃什么 makes our mission work. That’s why we know that you, our supporters, are the partners that will help make our mission possible. As you continue to support the PAL Foundation, we hope to see a concrete difference in the lives of the children we serve.

On October 13th at the Palisades Center, PAL held its first Women's Circle and Community Luncheon. This was the first event of its kind to bring together women across all PAL’s programs and has already set a new standard for female participation.

Three upcoming events are expected to be held at The Pennsylvania Convention Center. These events, which include the Annual Gala, will provide an opportunity for PAL to not only raise funds but also raise awareness for the different programs we offer.

Please consider making a contribution to PAL and help us make a difference in the lives of children in New York City." - Miguel Balbuena, Director of School Based Centers

"The police respected us, and we respected them. They took time out of their busy schedules to work with us. "Thank you, PAL, for keeping me safe when gang violence was rampant." - Quincy Dunlap, Director of Community Centers

PAL Alumni

To the PAL family, both past and present, frequently, to reconnect with my PAL family. It brings me comfort to remember the memories we’ve shared together. I am proud to be part of the PAL family and to have the opportunity to explore their current careers. Currently, I am working on a project for the Police Foundation with the goal of creating a scholarship for kids who are interested in pursuing a career in law enforcement.

One of the greatest impacts I have observed with my PAL kids is their desire to make a difference in the world. I am proud to have had the opportunity to work with them and watch them grow into the leaders they are today.

If you would like to learn more about becoming a PAL Partner or making a contribution to PAL, please visit our website or call us at 1-888-PAL-4KIDS. We look forward to hearing from you and learning more about your story.

A WUNDERFUL YEAR FOR PAL’S SPECIAL EVENTS

PAL NEWS STAFF

An investment into PAL is an investment into a potential success! - Quincy Dunlap

Q: Why is an investment into PAL important for the students at PAL?
A: An investment into PAL is an investment into a potential success! - Quincy Dunlap

Q: What is the overall aim of your department?
A: Overall, my department’s aim is to provide resources for students and staff, ensuring that PAL remains a safe and welcoming environment.

Q: What do you hope our kids will take with them when they leave PAL?
A: My hope is that our PAL kids are equipped with the tools they need to navigate the world. - Quincy Dunlap

Q: What do you hope our kids will take with them when they leave PAL?
A: My hope is that our PAL kids are equipped with the tools they need to navigate the world. - Quincy Dunlap

Q: What do you hope our kids will take with them when they leave PAL?
A: My hope is that our PAL kids are equipped with the tools they need to navigate the world. - Quincy Dunlap

Q: What do you hope our kids will take with them when they leave PAL?
A: My hope is that our PAL kids are equipped with the tools they need to navigate the world. - Quincy Dunlap
As a central organization, The Palmer Athletic League works hard to maintain crucial support for youth development, and our facilities have to PAL kids.

Quinty Dunlap, our new Director of Community Centers, along with Miguel Balbuena, Director of School Based Centers, are working hard to provide educational, recreational, and social programs to New York City students who are underserved or at-risk. Mr. Dunlap is responsible for PAL’s stand-alone and community-based centers. You help us grow into transformative leaders. Adding to our ability to build on the socio-emotional development of our students.

We are busy tabulating our evaluations for the summer, and we are confident that kids will continue academic growth with special materials and projects created by our Education Department. We could never accomplish our mission of being The Best Police Athletic League unless we have the support of people, foundations, and corporations that that our presence. We are grateful for your support.

As Executive Director of PAL, I have been with the organization for many years, and I believe that PAL is a special place. To provide programs and services that will not only support the development of our students, but also provide homework help and sports, but it provides a safe and fun environment for our children. With the help of our volunteers, parents, and community partners, we are able to provide our kids with the tools that they need to succeed in life. Thank you for your continued support.

Thank you, PAL, for keeping me safe when gang violence was rampant.”

MIGUEL BALBUENA, DIRECTOR OF SCHOOL BASED CENTERS

QUINCY DUNLAP, DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY CENTERS

PAL NEWS STAFF

Flickr had another great summer with your support, and we are preparing for a wonderful school year. During the summer, about 350,000 summer campers went on nearly a hundred trips of the continuing academic growth with special materials and projects created by our Education Department. We could never accomplish our mission of being The Best Police Athletic League unless we have the support of people, foundations, and corporations that that our presence.

Pamela L. Newman

Patrick J. Lynch

Rikki Klieman

Christopher L. Canty

VICE PRESIDENT

Daniel Rose

HONORARY PRESIDENT

John B. Osborn

CHAIRMAN

Robert M. Morgenthau

PRESIDENT

H. Aldervan Daly

EVENTS

If you would like to learn more about becoming a PAL Partner, please contact Whitney Dilisio at 212-477-9450 ext 307 or 309. or call PAL’s Development Department at 212-826-2012. PAL News is published monthly by the Police Athletic League of New York City, 90-05 15th Avenue, Flushing, NY 11375. We welcome all stories and opinions, and reserve the right to publish or edit any contribution. All contributions are subject to the terms and conditions of the PAL News. To become a PN contributor, please contact Whitney Dilisio at 212-477-9450 ext 307 or 309. or call PAL’s Development Department at 212-826-2012. All material reproduced in this publication is copyrighted and is the exclusive property of the Police Athletic League of New York City. All attempts will be made to send all the information to you. We are happy to provide you with a mug shot of you.

John B. Osborn

Robert M. Morgenthau

CHAIRMAN

Flickr had another great summer with your support, and we are preparing for a wonderful school year. During the summer, about 350,000 summer campers went on nearly a hundred trips of the continuing academic growth with special materials and projects created by our Education Department. We could never accomplish our mission of being The Best Police Athletic League unless we have the support of people, foundations, and corporations that that our presence.

Pamela L. Newman

Patrick J. Lynch

Rikki Klieman

Christopher L. Canty

VICE PRESIDENT

Daniel Rose

HONORARY PRESIDENT

John B. Osborn

CHAIRMAN

Robert M. Morgenthau

PRESIDENT

H. Aldervan Daly

EVENTS

If you would like to learn more about becoming a PAL Partner, please contact Whitney Dilisio at 212-477-9450 ext 307 or 309. or call PAL’s Development Department at 212-826-2012. PAL News is published monthly by the Police Athletic League of New York City, 90-05 15th Avenue, Flushing, NY 11375. We welcome all stories and opinions, and reserve the right to publish or edit any contribution. All contributions are subject to the terms and conditions of the PAL News. To become a PN contributor, please contact Whitney Dilisio at 212-477-9450 ext 307 or 309. or call PAL’s Development Department at 212-826-2012. All material reproduced in this publication is copyrighted and is the exclusive property of the Police Athletic League of New York City. All attempts will be made to send all the information to you. We are happy to provide you with a mug shot of you.

John B. Osborn

Robert M. Morgenthau

CHAIRMAN

Flickr had another great summer with your support, and we are preparing for a wonderful school year. During the summer, about 350,000 summer campers went on nearly a hundred trips of the continuing academic growth with special materials and projects created by our Education Department. We could never accomplish our mission of being The Best Police Athletic League unless we have the support of people, foundations, and corporations that that our presence.

Pamela L. Newman

Patrick J. Lynch

Rikki Klieman

Christopher L. Canty

VICE PRESIDENT

Daniel Rose

HONORARY PRESIDENT

John B. Osborn

CHAIRMAN

Robert M. Morgenthau

PRESIDENT

H. Aldervan Daly

EVENTS

If you would like to learn more about becoming a PAL Partner, please contact Whitney Dilisio at 212-477-9450 ext 307 or 309. or call PAL’s Development Department at 212-826-2012. PAL News is published monthly by the Police Athletic League of New York City, 90-05 15th Avenue, Flushing, NY 11375. We welcome all stories and opinions, and reserve the right to publish or edit any contribution. All contributions are subject to the terms and conditions of the PAL News. To become a PN contributor, please contact Whitney Dilisio at 212-477-9450 ext 307 or 309. or call PAL’s Development Department at 212-826-2012. All material reproduced in this publication is copyrighted and is the exclusive property of the Police Athletic League of New York City. All attempts will be made to send all the information to you. We are happy to provide you with a mug shot of you.

John B. Osborn

Robert M. Morgenthau

CHAIRMAN

Flickr had another great summer with your support, and we are preparing for a wonderful school year. During the summer, about 350,000 summer campers went on nearly a hundred trips of the continuing academic growth with special materials and projects created by our Education Department. We could never accomplish our mission of being The Best Police Athletic League unless we have the support of people, foundations, and corporations that that our presence.
You Make Every Season at PAL an Exciting One!

As a century-old organization, the Police Athletic League works hard at maintaining still exciting PAL programs. In fact, PAL now serves 13,000 youth daily, 600,000 yearly, and over 600,000 yearly participants. As the Police Athletic League, we are deeply committed to providing outstanding programs, just one example of the commitment our Center Directors, and staffs have to each of us.

To enhance our management of the different PAL Centers, we added two new senior staff members to over 30 Centers: Miguel Balbuena, Director of Community Development, and Quincy Dunlap, our new Director of Community Partners. Together, they bring many years of experience in youth development and education to PAL. Ms. Balbuena oversees the PAL Centers and our afterschool program, and our staff are responsible for our schools and community-based centers. Ms. Dunlap is responsible for PAL's stand-alone and community-based centers. She helps support all of these sites with her contributions.

Last month, we had our 65th Annual Benefit Dinner, and I want to thank everyone who attended and supported this very important fundraising event. We are most grateful toHonoree David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair to host Tony Danza and several youth members of PAL’s Acting Program. Together, they bring in the same thread that their time at PAL positioned them to do some outstanding things while doing so. This voice will help them navigate their dreams and those trips to Yankee stadium with PAL. We appreciate their magic and storytelling and hope that you will join us in supporting this important cause.

The honorees will be announced very soon. The luncheon will be held on October 17th at the Plaza. Honoring David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair Maurice R. Greenberg, another delightful evening was chaired by Maurice R. Greenberg, the event committee for our Celebration of PAL. The Police Athletic League is an amazing organization with an even greater foundation. PAL’s momentum provides a safe space and a reference for supportive and safe environments. PAL is strong because it provides help and support, but its youth are also a source of support when people encounter difficulties. PAL is a foundation, engaging parents will increase our ability to build on this already productive environment of our students.

As a Police Athletic League executive director, we have the privilege to do our part to provide outstanding programs, just one example of the commitment our Center Directors, and staffs have to each of us.

What do you hope the kids will take with them when they leave PAL?

Eric - “PAL’s after-school programs provide a safety net of support for students and families. We encourage parents to align their resources for students and PAL to get a greater foundation of success for our participants. PAL’s after-school programs provide a safety net of support for students and families. We encourage parents to align their resources for students and PAL to get a greater foundation of success for our participants.

I hope that important programming for the students at PAL?

Miguel - “Future PAL leaders recognize the importance of PAL’s role in our youth’s development. PAL’s after-school programs provide a safe space that allows our children to leverage relationships with school partners while building on their socio-emotional development. PAL’s role in our youth’s development is one example of the commitments our Center Directors, and staffs have to each of us.

What is the overall aim of your department?

Quincy – “Overall, my department’s aim is to provide resources for students and staff through development and represent our staff for all partnerships active in our mission to impact our students in effective ways, turning them into transformative leaders. Our overall aim is to make sure that everyone arrives back into their homes.

The Police respected us, and we respected them. We took time out of our busy schedules to work with them. “Thank you, PAL, for keeping me safe when gang violence was rampant.”

PAL Alumni

At the age of five, I left Puerto Rico, first part of the flight, second, New York City. I attended two schools in Brooklyn, NY, the Bronx, NY, and there I met a bunch of kids that you could call my friends. I had an amazing experience that we realized that even though I was young, I could have an impact. I had a mentor who encouraged me to play sports, work on my academics, and be a good kid. I also had a mentor who showed me that anything is possible.

One former PAL kid wrote that she was class president in New York, Utah’s Doublemound for the next few years, my kids, and I looked forward to seeing their friends and teammates. “Thank you, PAL, for the opportunity to see a school where you can make a difference.”

In the twenty years that I’ve been with PAL, I’ve become a PAL donor to contribute what I can to help children do positive things and stay right on track while growing up.

Charles M. Bolten, NY

A Wonderful Year for PAL’s Special Events

PAL really had a great summer, and now, for our 45th Annual Special Events Dinner, on September 21st at the Forum Honoring David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza.

On October 17th at the Plaza, PAL held its fourth annual Women of the Year Luncheon. This year’s theme was “Empowerment and Community Building.” This year, the theme was “Empowerment and Community Building.”

Miguel Balbuena, Director of School Based Centers

Quincy Dunlap, Director of Community Centers

PAL Alumni

At the age of five, I left Puerto Rico, first part of the flight, second, New York City. I attended two schools in Brooklyn, NY, the Bronx, NY, and there I met a bunch of kids that you could call my friends. I had an amazing experience that we realized that even though I was young, I could have an impact. I had a mentor who encouraged me to play sports, work on my academics, and be a good kid. I also had a mentor who showed me that anything is possible.

One former PAL kid wrote that she was class president in New York, Utah’s Doublemound for the next few years, my kids, and I looked forward to seeing their friends and teammates. “Thank you, PAL, for the opportunity to see a school where you can make a difference.”

In the twenty years that I’ve been with PAL, I’ve become a PAL donor to contribute what I can to help children do positive things and stay right on track while growing up.

Charles M. Bolten, NY

A Wonderful Year for PAL’s Special Events

PAL really had a great summer, and now, for our 45th Annual Special Events Dinner, on September 21st at the Forum Honoring David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza.

On October 17th at the Plaza, PAL held its fourth annual Women of the Year Luncheon. This year’s theme was “Empowerment and Community Building.” This year, the theme was “Empowerment and Community Building.”

Miguel Balbuena, Director of School Based Centers

Quincy Dunlap, Director of Community Centers

PAL Alumni

At the age of five, I left Puerto Rico, first part of the flight, second, New York City. I attended two schools in Brooklyn, NY, the Bronx, NY, and there I met a bunch of kids that you could call my friends. I had an amazing experience that we realized that even though I was young, I could have an impact. I had a mentor who encouraged me to play sports, work on my academics, and be a good kid. I also had a mentor who showed me that anything is possible.

One former PAL kid wrote that she was class president in New York, Utah’s Doublemound for the next few years, my kids, and I looked forward to seeing their friends and teammates. “Thank you, PAL, for the opportunity to see a school where you can make a difference.”

In the twenty years that I’ve been with PAL, I’ve become a PAL donor to contribute what I can to help children do positive things and stay right on track while growing up.

Charles M. Bolten, NY

A Wonderful Year for PAL’s Special Events

PAL really had a great summer, and now, for our 45th Annual Special Events Dinner, on September 21st at the Forum Honoring David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza.

On October 17th at the Plaza, PAL held its fourth annual Women of the Year Luncheon. This year’s theme was “Empowerment and Community Building.”

Miguel Balbuena, Director of School Based Centers

Quincy Dunlap, Director of Community Centers

PAL Alumni

At the age of five, I left Puerto Rico, first part of the flight, second, New York City. I attended two schools in Brooklyn, NY, the Bronx, NY, and there I met a bunch of kids that you could call my friends. I had an amazing experience that we realized that even though I was young, I could have an impact. I had a mentor who encouraged me to play sports, work on my academics, and be a good kid. I also had a mentor who showed me that anything is possible.

One former PAL kid wrote that she was class president in New York, Utah’s Doublemound for the next few years, my kids, and I looked forward to seeing their friends and teammates. “Thank you, PAL, for the opportunity to see a school where you can make a difference.”

In the twenty years that I’ve been with PAL, I’ve become a PAL donor to contribute what I can to help children do positive things and stay right on track while growing up.

Charles M. Bolten, NY

A Wonderful Year for PAL’s Special Events

PAL really had a great summer, and now, for our 45th Annual Special Events Dinner, on September 21st at the Forum Honoring David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza. We are excited to announce that a grand auction’s centennial was shared by Honorees David Boies, of Boies, Schiller & Flexner, and the event chair, Tony Danza.
Each season, PAL successfully provides NYC kids with Scout Camps, Fair Sirius, Fireworks, movie nights, and much more, thanks to supporters like you.

With our perfect balance of arts, athletes and academics, campers were presented with positive experiences which productively prepared them for a bright future, one in which your support, PAL staff worked together to combat summer learning loss, to improve the academic success and development of our students. Officer Lamont Anderson agrees.

Officer Lamont Anderson, “The best friend a kid can have.”

When Officer Anderson was a child, PAL staff and PAL volunteers influenced his educational journey. He became a role model, and as a result, he is now a PAL staff member. Officer Anderson and his PAL colleagues were influenced by educational volunteers who were committed to PAL to make our communities better. Officer Anderson is an example of what will happen next. But just like the ones who came before him, he takes pride in his staff, some of which are former students and community residents as he takes pride in his staff, some of which are former students and community residents. Officer Anderson, who is a former Banker, found his calling in youth development after retirement. Jill Moore.

The Police Athletic League, together with all its partners, has been a leader in helping at-risk kids and their families come through the doors of this community and have also overcome extreme violence and poverty to the kids of New York City.

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERS

Our after-school programs are supported by a network of businesses and individuals who share the same commitment to PAL and its kids. Our communities are supported by corporate sponsors who can offer our kids a quality learning experience.

For example, many of our 2,800 after-school PAL members have received homework help, other activities offered at the Goldie Maple Center are from the Lionheart Foundation, and Investors Foundation. Our after-school volunteers received special training by the Lionheart Foundation to provide quality help to PAL members. We have fully incorporated these after-school volunteers into our after-school volunteer program.

The Police Athletic League, together with its partners, has been a leader in helping at-risk kids and their families come through the doors of this community and have also overcome extreme violence and poverty to the kids of New York City.

CORPORATE VOLUNTEERS

The Goldie Maple Center provides our youth with an array of activities. The after-school programs, which are supported by corporate and individual offices, provide a positive environment that our youth can embrace and volunteer support from you and our partners such as Lionheart Foundation, and Investors Foundation.

Thank you for making this possible.