

High Yield Corporate Bond Strategy

Strategy Profile

Strategy Inception April 30, 2014

The High Yield Corporate Bond Strategy seeks to achieve higher total returns with less volatility than that of the Bank of America Merrill Lynch High Yield Master II Index. The strategy utilizes high yield and investment grade bonds, preferred stocks, and bond ETFs to create an income-producing portfolio that maximizes total return through prudent risk management. Portfolios are diversified using rigorous credit and relative-value analysis to find undervalued securities. Most portfolios will have a credit long, low turnover bias. However, the investment team may also trade on a shorter term basis to capitalize on specific market opportunities including M&A transactions, calls and tenders, and rating changes.
