

EVAN ISHIDA

Our passion is creating places where people work with purpose and engage in building the organization's future. We design practical and progressive solutions that grow talent, boost innovation, and increase employee engagement. We also have a lot of fun along the way.

Focus

Strategic Planning

People participate in what they help create

Learning and Training

People will contribute more when we invest in their learning

Innovation

People will generate new ideas when included in the innovation process

Happiness

People have the most impact when they own their happiness

Strategic Planning

We use a unique process called the Agile Canvas to simplify the strategic planning process, enhance engagement, and increase the speed to execution. It is comprised of three parts: Intentions (What do we need to see possible?), Questions (What do we need to research or decide?) and Sprints (What do we need to do?).

Everyday Innovation- EiQ

We help people move from a "problem solving" mindset to a "creating" mindset. Through a partnership with EiQ Everyday Innovation, we offer workshops and consulting to build innovation capabilities of employees, leaders, and the organization.

Learning Strategy and Training

We help you grow your people's skills and knowledge by creating learning plans and designing custom solutions. Our consultants have years of experience in learning strategy, needs assessments, and building solutions such as classroom training, eLearning, communities of practice, and performance support.

Happiness- Thrive@Work

Using a science-based approach, our offerings use experiential learning to build the habits of happiness. With Thrive@Work we provide off-the-shelf experiences or custom designs that focus on health, mindfulness, discovering strengths, and building trust.
