OG014 ScotSTAR Observers

1. Key Recommendations for operational use

| For use by: All ScotSTAR teams. For information: SAS. Internet: Yes |
|---|---|
| Observer Categories | Requests for permission to observe operational duties will be considered if there is a clinical or operational necessity. This includes research, training and assessment.
Clinical Observers - registered health care professionals including doctors, nurses and paramedics. Such observers may attend operational incidents at the discretion of the supervising clinician.
Non-Clinical Observers - not from an NHS clinical background and / or whose purpose of a visit is not aligned with those of the clinical observer are required to submit their requests in writing to the relevant Head of Service. Such individuals include politicians, the media, military, foreign medical personnel or those with business interests.
In addition, Press or Political Observers require permission from the Director of Operations. Arrangements must be coordinated with the Corporate Affairs Manager. |
| Prior to the observer shift | Individuals requesting ScotSTAR observer shifts should complete the Observer Request Form (Appendix A) and submit to the relevant department:
- EMRS West: anne.cadman@nhs.net
- EMRS North: alastair.ross@nhs.net
- Paediatrics: christina.harry@ggc.scot.nhs.uk
- Neonates: sharon.donachie1@nhs.net
Observers should sign the disclaimer agreement and confidentiality form (Appendix B) confirming acceptance and compliance with the conditions.
The Observer will be sent the completed joining instructions form (Appendix C).
Observers must ensure that they have in-place the appropriate permissions, occupational insurance and indemnity for any activities undertaken.
- The Scottish Ambulance Service does not accept any additional liability. |
| Be aware | Departments reserve the right to amend or cancel the date of the observer shift.
No more than one observer can be accommodated in each department at any one time.
The patient, their carers or parents can refuse consent to the observer’s presence.
The nature of retrieval work is unpredictable and observers should be aware that shifts may over-run. |
| Infectious diseases | Any Observer involved in patient/clinical assessment or treatment must have completed the same immunisation protocol as SAS service staff. This includes hepatitis B.
- observers must confirm that to their knowledge, they have immunity to or immunisation against diseases such as rubella, measles, polio and TB.
- observers must also confirm that they are not immunosuppressed through illness or treatment and are not known carriers of other transmissible infections. |
General Conduct
