

Dr. Karl C. Ivarson Agricultural Scholarship Guidelines and Selection Criteria 2017

Purpose and Background

Dr. Karl C. Ivarson worked as a soil scientist with Agriculture Canada in the Soil Research Institute, Soil Biochemistry Section. In 1978 he was transferred to the Chemistry and Biology Research Institute where he researched and resolved many problems of the effect of microbial activity on mineral transformations in soils.

The Dr. Karl C. Ivarson Agricultural Scholarship was established in 2013 to support students from, or previously from, the province of Alberta pursuing studies in agriculture or a related field. The first scholarships were awarded in the 2013/14 academic year.

Objective

To provide financial support to students from the province of Alberta in their university studies in agriculture or a related discipline. The number of scholarships will depend on the income generated from Dr. Ivarson's generous gift to the Foundation. In 2017 there will be one Master of Science scholarship of $10,000 and one PhD scholarship of $16,900.

Tenure

The scholarship is for full-time study in the 2017-18 academic year.

Payment of the scholarship will be made to the recipient and the award is subject to receipt of written confirmation of enrollment from the university that the recipient is attending.
