TEACHER GUIDE:
SENNA FROM PERU

Summary of Senna’s Film Chapter
Senna’s family struggles to survive in a bleak Peruvian mining town. Her father has big dreams for her and so insists she go to school. She discovers the transformative power of poetry. Her passion and talent seem to ensure she’ll have a better future – and be the success her father imagined she’d be. “Poetry is how I turn ugliness into art.” (Senna)

Note to Teachers
Senna’s chapter focuses on the issues surrounding poverty and the positive impact family support and influence can have on girls in developing countries. Students are encouraged to examine the negative aspects of Senna’s situation, and to explore the positive influences in her life.

Ideas for Introducing Senna’s Story to Students

- Locate Peru on a map or globe.
- The poem Los Heraldos Negros (Black Messengers) by César Vallejo plays a key role in Senna’s life. Have students read the poem and list reasons they feel this poem may be important. Does it inspire them? Why or why not?
- Ask students to list the types of jobs they have had, or the types of jobs that are typical for teenagers in their community.

Watching the Film

- Using the Viewing Guide below, ask students to answer the Before You Watch questions prior to watching the film. (Hint: 25 percent of all girls worldwide are born into poverty.)
- Encourage students to use the space provided in the While You Are Watching section for any notes, comments, or questions that they have as they watch the film.
- After viewing the film, students should complete the Reflection section. Students can answer these questions on their own, or you may opt for a class discussion around them.
- Encourage students to answer the final question, “What are you interested in learning more about?” Consider student answers when choosing which Project-Based Lesson(s) you will use.

Before You Watch

Before you meet Senna and learn about her experience, take a few minutes to answer the following questions:

1. What portion of girls worldwide do you believe are born into poverty? 1/8, 1/4, or 1/2?

2. On a scale of 1 to 10, how determined are you to finish high school? (1 = not at all, and 10 = extremely determined)

3. Who encourages you to finish high school?

While You Are Watching

Record your thoughts, impressions, and questions as you watch Senna’s story.

Reflection

Now that you have had the opportunity to learn about Senna, answer the following questions:

1. How determined do you believe Senna is to finish school? Do you believe she will be successful in reaching her goal? Why or why not?

2. How difficult would it be to live in La Rinconada? Do you think you could stay focused on your educational goals while living under Senna’s conditions? Why or why not?

3. Why do you feel it was important for the film’s director to share Senna’s story?

4. How have your views changed? What opinions have remained the same? What new information had the greatest impact on you?

5. What are you interested in learning more about?
