Days for Girls is working in Nepal to educate girls and communities on sexual and reproductive health. They are working to end the practice of banishing girls from their homes and schools while they have their periods.

To learn more about this organization visit its website, Facebook, Instagram and Twitter pages.