

The Plowshare Post

December 2013 Edition

219 W. Main St. Waukesha, WI 53186 ~ 262-547-5188 ~ www.plowsharecenter@sbcglobal.net

Please mark your calendar. Believe it or not, the Plowshare Center will soon be celebrating its 25th year in Downtown Waukesha! On March 21, 2014, we will hold a 25th Anniversary Gala with the theme of "Plowshare, Persevering for Peace".

We will be highlighting and thanking the hundreds of people who have worked so hard over the years to sustain Plowshare's mission:

"Making Peace Relevant to the World around Us."

This joyful event will be held at Carroll University's Stackner Ballroom. It will include a delicious ethnic dinner, music, and UW-Waukesha Professor Emeritus, Dr. Margaret Rozga, telling stories about spirited activists who have courageously worked for justice and peace in Southeastern Wisconsin and the wider world.

Watch for more details about the Anniversary Gala in early January.

"There is a community of the spirit, Join it, and feel the delight of walking in the noisy street and being the noise."

(Rumi, "A Community of Spirit")

Derek Steinmetz ~ Treasurer

I joined the Plowshare Center board in January 2013 with a desire to share my experience in non-profit accounting and finance with the organization. After graduating from University of Wisconsin - La Crosse in December 2007, I worked as an auditor of non-profit organizations for a large regional accounting firm. For the last 3 years, I have worked in the finance department at Goodwill Industries of Southeastern WI. When I am not working on non-profit financial information, I spend my time running a small vegan cookie business with my wife, traveling, reading, and playing with my son and two dogs.

Plowshare on the Road

We'd be glad to bring an array of products from our international marketplace to your location for an off-site sale. If your group would like to learn more about fair trade, an informational presentation can be provided.
