What is Spiritual Care?

Spiritual care is a supportive, compassionate presence for you during times of change, illness, grief, or loss. Spiritual care is a respectful partnership between you and the spiritual care provider. It is an important part of whole-person care.

How Can Spiritual Care Help Me?

Spiritual care can help you find sources of strength, comfort, inner peace and gratitude.

When do I Need Spiritual Care?

When you desire to become attuned to the deeper meaning in your life.

When you desire forgiveness towards self or others.

When you want to rediscover and reclaim your values.

When you desire a deepening sense of self worth.

When you are feeling hopelessness, despair and grief.

When you have questions about suffering.

A spiritual caregiver can meet with you to offer:

• compassionate listening to talk about emotional and spiritual concerns in a safe space.

• practices that encourage spiritual healing and inner peace.

• prayer, meditation, and spiritual direction to help you explore life's purpose and inner wisdom.
