March 2015 Newsletter

Dear Friend -

Winter has hit and the children are just children who like to play in the snow.

Our animals love it, except for our short hair, Cara - the snow is deeper than her legs!

A man stopped in to see me. He lived here 15 years ago. Now he flies a transport carrying wounded soldiers back to the United States. He said he wanted me to know what a difference One Way Farm made in his life.

If you are one of our longtime supporters, you helped make a difference in his life. A once wounded child now carries wounded soldiers back to safety.

If you are new to One Way Farm you can rest assured that your contributions, great or small, matter in the lives of our children.

Lovingly,

Barbara J. Condo
Executive Director & Founder

This little girl cried for almost an hour.

She finally crawled up on the couch and covered up.

There are two important things here. Notice the cat that climbed up next to her? The warm blanket she covered up with was one of 40 made by a young man on his way to the army. What comfort!

Cards for the Kids

We often get fast food & movie cards at Christmas, but this year they did not come. We need McDonald's, Burger King, Frisch's & Movie tickets so that the children can experience the things they love most. It takes $80 for us to take the children to McDonalds! Next time you drive thru, please think of the kids!

Linda

This was a letter recently given to me from a 23 years employee. Linda wanted to express her thoughts about working with our children all these years.

“As I approach my 23rd year working, I reflect on the memorials I have had. Each day is new and changing, making the job challenging as well as rewarding. As a group we have experienced the highest of highs and have experienced the lowest of lows. Through it all we remain as a whole.

Our goal is to provide the best care we can give to our youths, they are our true blessings. Each one so different, each one leaving a mark on my heart.

Through it all, Ms. Condo has been there supporting me, teaching me. I will be forever grateful.

God bless Ms. Condo. God bless our youths.”
Linda

Robby

Many children come and go; there are those that remain in your mind. This child came to our home when he was 12. Dark skin, dark eyes and a dimple in his chin. Robby had been kept in a room most of his life. He was unable to eat with a fork or drink out of a cup. You see, Robby was also developmentally disabled. His spells of rage were sometimes uncontrollable. After being with us for a few short months he could eat with silverware and drink from a cup.

We felt he was on his way. Then suddenly one day his rage overtook his well being. He had to be admitted to a hospital for the developmentally disabled. So sad, he once was a small, baby boy with dark brown eyes. We forget times in our busy lives the suffering that children endure even after they have been rescued.

Sincerely hold his and my hand and together we shall walk and carry children, not only to safety but in a walk of love.

Peace

"Peace" . . . I am searched for by everyone.

"Peace" . . . I am precious, found by some.

"Peace" . . . I am looked for by the lost.
I am purchased with great cost.

I am found by every sort, my friend,
And I will take your lonely heart and mend.

"I am Peace" . . . oh, how I cry!
Should you not love like I.

No matter what the color of that face . . .
No matter what time and place . . .

No matter how long his hair might be . . .
Help that I, through Peace, can see.

For I am Peace and I must show in everything you do.
For I am Peace and my light must show through you.

I am better known to you as Christ . . . Lord . . . Master . . .
Friend . . . and I, Peace, will endure with you until the very end.
