honored at the Asian World Film Festival . On Oct. 24, he will receive a lifetime achievement award on the opening day of the fest, sponsored by Variety. And the next day the festival will screen Pam Tom 's documentary about him on his 106th birthday. 'My dad is tickled,' ...Kim says on his behalf. 'But he doesn't understand the hullabaloo.' Tom sure does. The Asian-American filmmaker spent 17 years researching and shaping her documentary about Wong, who has packed a lot of artistry into his long life. Born in China, he immigrated to the Bay Area at age 9, went to art school on scholarship, and painted murals before taking a low-level animation job 'It was a huge history lesson to me,' Tom says. And while Musso knew Hollywood wasn't always welcoming to Asians in the 1960s, he never realized the scope of Wong's racial struggles until he saw Tom's film. 'When I met him you would never see it. He did not mention it.' Indeed, he describes the illustrator as revered at Warner Bros. during their shared time at the studio. As Wong has gotten older, tributes to his work have proliferated. He was named a Disney Legend in 2001, and the ...Walt Disney Family Museum exhibited his artwork in 2013. Asian-American museums have also paid tribute to the artist. But all this material about the artist that Tom unearthed posed its own creative challenge: How to shape his story into a digestible form. 'He worked so many media,' Tom says. Los Angeles: ‘Faith’ wins Viewers’ Award Өнөөдөр 17 цаг 20 минут A Mongolian film called ‘Faith’ (Itgel) has won the Viewers’ Award at the Asian World Film Festival (AWFF) currently being held in Los Angeles. Based on a true story, ‘Faith’ is directed by B.Garamkhand and the main role is played by Mongolian ‘Hollywood’ actor Amarsaikhan. Last ...year, ‘Thief of the Mind’, a movie with Amarsaikhan in the main role also won the Viewers’ Award. According to the organisers, when ‘Faith’ premiered at the Asian World Film Festival (AWFF), it immediately proved to be such a total sell-out that ‘ArcLight’ cinema had to show it on two screens in the same building simultaneously. This is the first time this has happened during a premier at the Asian World ...Film Festival. Famous artists such as... ‘Oscar’ winning producer Andre Morgan and Hollywood School House founder Ferris Bebe, are major figures behind the film festival. More than 50 films from Asian 40 countries have competed for seven nominations. Two Mongolian films, namely ‘Faith’ and ‘Mother’ are contending. The Asian World Film Festival brings the best of a broad selection of Asian World cinema to Los ...Angeles in order to draw greater recognition to the region’s wealth of filmmakers as well as strengthening the ties between the film industries of Asia and Hollywood.
