Welcome School of Architecture Class of 2022!

On behalf of the American Institute of Architecture Students, we are delighted to have you with us this year as you begin a five-year journey towards earning your Bachelor of Architecture degree and becoming an Architect! With over 6,000 student members nationwide, the AIAS is the largest professional architectural student organization in the United States. Among many things, AIAS strives to address and affect today's architectural education, profession, and discourse at both the local and national level. The organization promotes excellence in architecture education, training, and practice while fostering an appreciation of architecture and its many related disciplines. Central to its goals, the AIAS seeks to enrich communities with a spirit of collaboration and to combine students' efforts for the advancement of the art and science of architecture.

In this spirit, the 2017-2018 CMU AIAS Executive Board would like to encourage you to join this truly great organization. Membership will provide a supplement to your architectural education by introducing you to varied perspectives through conferences, trips, and discussions. It is a place where your voice enters into dialogue with others in the field by providing an opportunity to develop a professional and academic network with the support of your fellow students. In addition, the AIAS offers you the opportunity to benefit from numerous other services, subscriptions, and discount opportunities that can bring much more than financial dividends. We see the initiative of the student body as instrumental to enriching our education and actively strive to promote this mentality in our members.

As you prepare to study architecture at Carnegie Mellon, you will need a number of tools, supplies, and materials for your first two semesters. The following two pages will detail important information on purchasing a toolkit package for your first year.

As an incentive to join our chapter of AIAS, we have formed a partnership with the Carnegie Mellon University Art Store to provide art supplies and materials to members at discounted prices ranging from 15-50% off at special times throughout the semester. You can join AIAS online by visiting the AIAS website at www.aias.org and clicking on "Membership" to become a member beginning on July 11, 2016. The total cost of our chapter membership is $55 - the national membership fee is $47 and chapter dues are $8. The amount of money that you will save in discounts and benefits will more than cover the cost of membership.

Please contact the CMU AIAS President, Zain Islam-Hashmi, by email at <zislamha@andrew.cmu.edu> with any questions you may have regarding membership. Feel free to visit the national AIAS website at www.aias.org for more information about the organization as a whole. Membership for the 2017-2018 academic year officially begins on September 1, but you can begin to sign up for membership now. Information regarding events and meetings of the Carnegie Mellon AIAS will be provided during the first week of classes.

Please review the following two pages for important information about purchasing your Architecture Supply Toolkit. We look forward to you joining our group of leaders and innovators in promoting the sense of community and collaborative spirit vital to our studio culture at the Carnegie Mellon School of Architecture.

Sincerely,
Zain Islam-Hashmi
President, AIAS at Carnegie Mellon University

ARCHITECTURE SUPPLIES FOR FIRST YEAR

You will need a number of supplies for your first year of studying architecture at Carnegie Mellon.

Incoming first-year architecture students are strongly advised to purchase the Architecture Supply Toolkit from the Carnegie Mellon University Art Store to best prepare you for your studies in architecture. Purchasing the entire Architecture Supply Toolkit is highly recommended as the supplies in this toolkit are necessary for your first year drawing and studio courses and continuing throughout your time as an architecture student. Even if you already have some of the supplies listed on the next page, it may be a good idea to buy the entire kit anyway to take advantage of the package discount. They are also conveniently packaged and available for pick-up from the CMU Art Store during Orientation Week. (Note: Individual items cannot be purchased at a discount; the entire kit must be purchased for the discount.)

You will need to purchase the attached list of supplies for your first year in Architecture. A discounted price is available to all First Year Architecture students who purchase the Architecture Supply Toolkit from the university Art Store by Tuesday, August 1. The School of Architecture strongly recommends that you take advantage of this offer since these materials will be needed to complete your architecture studies.
