Street art is the world's largest art movement since Pop Art in the 1950s. Artists are using the streets as their canvas, turning cities into galleries. Artistic interventions are often seen as a catalyst and indicator of cultural vibrancy and engagement. Portland is known for its quirky DIY mentality, progressive urban planning, bicycle-friendliness, and livable neighborhoods. Encouraging artistic expression in our public spaces ensures that everyone can be exposed to art in their everyday lives. Street art is an essential ingredient and element of Portland! This map is just a starting point. The streets are always changing, and finding street art is often times like a scavenger hunt. We have provided you some insider clues, but now it is up to you to find the hidden treasures Portland has to offer!
