

This week we looked at Jesus' command for his followers in John 15:9-17 to love one another as he has loved us. This is a profound thing, when we see it rightly. Let's think through this command together.

Read John 15:9-17

- 1) How is this new commandment different from previous calls to "love?"

- 2) What might this type of love look like in our church family?

- 3) Going back to John 13:34-36, why would this be appealing to the watching world?

- 4) What is our motivation for this type of love and how can be be continually fueled for it?
