“Expectant Hope in Christ”

1 Corinthians 15:35-49

1. What is the common view of the “after life” in our community and how does the Christian understanding of resurrection differ from that?

Being in “heaven” on clouds with harps... The Christian view is one of vibrancy and physicality. Purpose and redeemed life lived for eternity.

2. If your physical body is connected to your resurrection body, how will that shape how you value and treat your body now?

I will care for it but still hold it loosely enough to sow it well for others.

3. What does it mean practically to live a life of enjoying and sowing?

A spiritual contentment and comfort in Christ that shapes how I chose to spend my time and treasure. Investing in things that matter, as defined by biblical value and what Christ says of us and others.

4. How can we stir one another up to live this life of sowing for Christ’s glory?

By being together! Spending time and reminding one another of who we are in Christ and the transformation that is unfolding even now. Then challenging each other to live it out, risk and adventure from our identity in Christ.
