Drifter:

If you mostly answered c), you are on the fence with guitar, and may feel “forced” to do guitar lessons. Maybe you haven't found the right teacher, or set the right goals. Please talk to your parents about what you really want on guitar!

Do these answers sit well for you?

Maybe your child really does enjoy what he/she is doing – but is too shy to express their responses.

Whatever it may be, I hope this opens up the conversation for you to work with your child on their guitar lessons.
