HISTORY

LEWIS PAPER is a leading printing paper distributor offering fine quality printing papers and graphic art supplies to businesses since 1982, servicing the needs of quick printers, schools, and organizations in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Colorado and Wyoming. We are open to doing business with anyone that buys paper & supplies, from one ream to one truckload.

Lewis Paper Place was the vision of Dick & Miriam Lewis, owners of Richard Lewis Paper Corp. Dick Lewis, with 40 years of paper sales experience saw the rapid growth of the quick printing industry and together they formed Lewis Paper Place in March of 1982. The company started with 2 employees, both family members, John Lewis and Yvonne Jewson. They opened our first location in Wheeling, IL. with modest inventory, a paper cutter and the motto "It's our service that sets us apart." We were originally a "cash and carry" business where customers could pick up paper and graphic arts supplies. It quickly became apparent that the majority of the business demanded deliveries, fortunately our third employee owned a pick up truck. That might work fine in warm sunny weather, however Illinois is not always warm and sunny, which necessitated the need to purchase a van. Our fleet today consists of over 45 vehicles. Lewis Paper Place was originally represented by a handful of paper mills, which to this day are still a part of Lewis Paper; Wausau Paper, Williamhouse/National Envelope and Neenah Paper to name a few.

We now represent all major domestic paper mills and carry the widest selection of brand name paper products the market has to offer. In July of 1983 the company was joined by Bob Zessis, our current President, who brought extensive knowledge of the paper industry with a sales and marketing background. After Bob joined the company, several new locations were opened and many new supplier agreements were started. Our ability to offer a service platform of competitive pricing, timely delivery, availability of brand name quality products, accurate orders, easy to do business with attitude, supported by our "whatever it takes" philosophy led to earning the privilege of serving over 4000 customers. Our market share and sales began to grow dramatically. To date, Lewis Paper has grown to 8 locations in four states and operates as a wholesale paper merchant that specializes in selling sheet-fed paper products and graphic art supplies to the printing community and local businesses. We are proud of our successes, our family of customers, our family of staff, our family of vendors. We are today as we were in 1982 a family owned and run business. We thank all those who allow us the great opportunity to earn your business each and every day.

ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

Lewis Paper is committed to Environmental Leadership. We believe in meeting the needs of the present without compromising the needs of future generations. Lewis Paper does business with suppliers which adhere to responsible forest practices and are certified by independent third party organizations. Our eco-friendly portfolio provides quality choices for all environmental printing requirements. We are committed to implementing and maintaining our chain of custody control systems.

LEWIS PAPER IS AWARDED FSC® CERTIFICATION

Lewis Paper proudly announces Forest Stewardship Council® (FSC®) chain of custody certification.

The Forest Stewardship Council® is an independent non-profit organization devoted to responsible forest management worldwide. Their certification system is broadly supported by leading environmental groups such as Green Peace and the World Wildlife Fund. In order to bring our customers FSC® certified products we must have the certification to complete the entire supply chain, or chain of custody, from manufacturing to distribution.

FSC® 50% Mixed Change

All FSC® 50% mixed credit items sold by Lewis Paper are registered by the vendors as of April 1, 2011 as "FSC® Mixed 50% Registered"

LEWIS PAPER IS AWARDED SFI® CERTIFICATION

As another step towards our commitment to responsible environmental practices, Lewis Paper was awarded SFI® (Sustainable Forestry Initiative®) chain of custody certification (number SGS-SFI/COC-US09/5545).

As a certified organization, Lewis Paper can claim the content of the products we sell come from certified forests and are sourced through a rigorous fiber sourcing program. This helps consumers identify and give preference to products that are manufactured from well-managed forests.

ENVIRONMENTAL TERMINOLOGY

What is recycled paper?

Recycled paper can have several meanings, but the most consistent definition is derived from our federal government's guidelines. Almost all state and local government and business procurement specifications now reference the Environmental Protection Agency's guidelines on recycled paper. The EPA guidelines require a minimum of 30% post-consumer content for uncoated printing and writing paper, and a minimum of 10% post-consumer content for coated papers. Other forms of paper, such as newsprint, corrugated packaging, tissue, and others, also require post-consumer content. The EPA doesn't consider mill broke, the unprinted trimming and converting scrap from paper mills themselves, recycled content. The manufacturing of recycled paper offers numerous environmental benefits including the use of materials that otherwise would be shipped to landfill sites where they would produce significant amount so greenhouse gases. The recovery rate of recyclable material in the United States is 52%, which means 48% is still being sent to landfills.
