As I walked into the Ohio National there were thousands of birds. I saw people putting birds in pens and people getting ready for the show. I heard chickens crowing and ducks quacking. I heard all about the breeds like Dorkers and Modern game. There was also New Hampshire.

As I was walking I realised the barn was huge. There were people selling chickens on traders row. There were kids who were in showmanship and there were giant trophies. I am seeing all the champion ship row, chickens and ducks. That is why I went to the Ohio National to see all the winners.
