PACE® Southeast Michigan to Participate in Older Michigamians’ Day

Will Advocate on Behalf of Seniors

Detroit, MI – On June 2, seniors from across the state will descend on Lansing for the annual Older Michigamians’ Day. Participants from PACE Southeast Michigan - a health plan and health provider for qualified seniors - will be there with them.

This year’s platform for Older Michigamians’ Day is “A Voice for Michigan’s Aging.” Hundreds of seniors, service providers and senior advocates will gather on the east Capitol lawn in the morning before meeting with their state representatives and senators. In addition to meeting legislators, the day’s activities include a rally, presentation of Senior Citizen of the Year Awards and a speech by a representative from the Governor’s office.

PACE Southeast Michigan will be taking two buses with participants and staff to the event providing door-to-door transportation for its seniors. The organization will also have an information table on the Capitol lawn.

Some of the issues for which PACE Southeast Michigan participants will be advocating are improving access to affordable long-term care supports and services including Governor Snyder’s budget recommendation to expand PACE programs in Michigan; continue support of adequate funding for elder abuse prevention; legislation to provide a tax credit to make homes more accessible so seniors can remain in their homes.

“Our senior participants are eager to meet their legislators and share the unique needs and interests of older adults in Michigan,” said Mary Naber, President and CEO of PACE Southeast Michigan. “We look forward to providing them with this opportunity to advocate alongside their peers from around the state.”

Older Michigamians’ Day is free and open to the public. For more information please call 313-585-3645.
