Special Agent Charles Jenkins - presently assigned to the Chicago Field Division - a genial gentleman and scholar - whose friendship is cherished by all those who have been in contact with him, celebrates his 25th year as a Special Agent in the Bureau on July 1, 1938.

Agent Jenkins, a native Washingtonian, was graduated from Georgetown University Law School, Washington, D. C. and admitted to the Bar of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, February 3, 1904. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta Social Fraternity. Agent Jenkins is married and has one boy - studying law - like father, like son.

In 1906 he entered the Attorney General's Office - Department of Justice as a clerk and in 1911 was made Chief Clerk in the Bureau of Investigation. He received his appointment as a Special Agent in this Bureau on July 1, 1913.

His Rarest of rare investigations has do do with theft on an Indian Reservation. While working out of the Minneapolis Field Office during 1928 there was received a complaint that horses had been stolen from the White Earth Indian Reservation, Pierre, South Dakota. Now horse stealing is a serious offense in any man's town, but in this section it is "super-bad." He got descriptions of a dozen horses that had been stolen and as a precautionary measure took a couple of Indians along with him. He said that since he was raised in Washington, D. C., most all horses look much the same, but not so with those Indians. Those Indians walked around the horse, looked in his mouth, held a consultation and said - "that's one of the stolen cayuses." It is difficult to identify a man from his photograph, it is more difficult to identify a man from a description, but it is almost an impossibility to identify a horse by such a description as: Height - 15 hands, Weight - 1200 pounds, Age - 2 years, color roan.

The following offices have at various times enjoyed the smiling countenance and ready wit of Agent Jenkins: Birmingham, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, New York, Washington, D. C., Detroit, Milwaukee, Norfolk, Va., Cleveland, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Memphis and Chicago.

Members of the Chicago Field Division, and all of his friends throughout the Bureau, join in extending him felicitations and wishing him continued success. His loyalty for 25 years (short years he says) is worthy of the highest praise. Congratulations and Orchids to you - Charley.
