Maintaining our Family Systems

In our church family, we take on roles such as the board member, the adult religious exploration committee chair, the Sunday school teacher, the minister, the congregant, etc. This useful model helps spread the work load and adds levels of accountability and responsibility so that our family continues forward movement. As with all vibrant families, there needs to be a system of checks and balances in place to ensure that the forward movement is fluid and is the one we all agreed upon.

The role of Governing / Ministry Advisory Council, or GMAC, is to be a bridging advisory group between the Board (governing) and the Minister (ministry). This group is the listening ear for the congregation, as well as the voice to share concerns and questions. GMAC assists in making sure everyone is, and feels like they are, on the same page.

With their eyes and minds on the vision for the church, the GMAC members help minimize disruption when changes occur by offering constructive ways of communicating and receiving feedback. The council also assists in leadership development and planning annual governance / ministry planning retreats. The members are collaboratively determined by the Board Director and the Minister.

We are here for you. You are welcome to reach out to any (or all) of the GMAC members who will be glad to help you to feel like the valued member of the family that you are.
