

See especially <http://www.socialpsychology.org/peace.htm>

Key components of attitudes:

Cognitive (measuring beliefs about specific attributes)

Affective (measuring feelings/moods about specific attributes)

Behavioral (measuring actions or intended actions)

Dimensions of emotional states:

Key Social Psychology Concepts

Behavior-attitude consistency

Hindsight bias

Blame the victim

Illusion of control

Cognitive dissonance

Impression formation

Deindividuation

Context effect

False consensus effect

Halo effect

Fundamental attribution error

Primacy effect

Dispositional

Ingroup-outgroup bias

Situational

Just world phenomenon

Heuristics

Reactance

Anchoring

Self-fulfilling prophecy

Availability (vividness)

Self-handicapping

Representativeness

Self-serving bias