Brown Leads After Double Round

It was the storm before the storm. Eugene Schon had followed his prep, and munched the pawn as recommended, but Papantoniou just wouldn't go away. One pawn down, then two, and John just kept on throwing ammo. A bishop and pawns down, a rook and pawns down, the attack raged on (at times convincingly, at others on adrenalin and hope). Eugene missed a tricky forced-ish drawing line (oh, to grovel for a draw when a rook and three pawns up), John's surviving rook shot across the board like a lightning bolt and Eugene's king was trapped in the net. Likewise your DOP was trapped on foot in the beautiful but just a tad wet pseudo-tropical downpour later that evening, and had to hide in the university, where security staff viewed his uniform with some unease before deciding he was actually just harmless and plain stupid.

That was just the start of a ripper day for Papantoniou, who drew with second seed FM Bobby Cheng in an engrossing struggle in round 4. But the leader of the U18 is now Andrew Brown who seemed bulletproof in strong but far from straightforward positions in convincingly defeating Yi Yuan. Cheng, Papantoniou and Anthony Milton follow half a point behind

There were some very tough games in the Under 12s, with some quite strong play well down the field and many instructive and at times bizarre endgame turnarounds (a few of those in the U18 too, as it happened ...). Top seed Andrew Pan has not yet been severely tested and the last standing with him on 100% is Joshua Behar with Stuart Mason half a point behind. The girls return to action with Round 3 on the 18th.

Bulletin Five will feature a rambling excuse-laden monologue about the Rapid, which as I write is two-thirds completed in two (not three!) separate events. So far we've had just a little change management issue (☺), two mass boycott threats, 95 computer failures, an eight-move draw on a leading board and there's still two rounds to go!

Kevin Bonham
D.O.P and Bulletin Editor

There's efficiency and there's Ricoh efficiency.

RICOH
Believe in a better way

These players are all very happy because they didn't have to play a double round in yesterday's silly weather! This lovely and much-admired photo of the entire U12 Girls field was taken by Glen Gibbs.

Gremlins besseige Bulletin Two! Your editor just wanted to latibulate and cry when several errors were found in the original copies of Bulletin Two. In particular, board 3 in the Under 12s was Ari Dale – Martin Jack not Ari Dale – Matthew Pyper, and worse still board 4 in the U12G was Hannah Derwent – Denise Lim not Hannah Derwent – Ethan Lim. Ian Rogers was playing the simul on day two, not Matthew and Ethan! Early bulletin copies that have not been hand-corrected are now a collectors' item and one day people will pay $10,000 to laugh at these errors just as some would pay that much for a misprinted postage stamp! Oh, and the number the editor couldn't count to was actually seven, not nine.

Pointless Metric of the Day: There were 25 checkmates yesterday, 9 in the Under 18 and 16 in the Under 12. The Under 12s were just as likely to checkmate before lunch as after it while the clearly less matutinal Under 18s were twice as likely to get checkmated before lunch.

Reading from the Book of FIBE by IA Gnarl's Serpentine

A point is scored for results purposes only by the player whose opponent declares he or she resigns. It is absolutely forbidden to resign simply because one has a very lost position, and indeed in this case etiquette requires playing on so that bored IAs may moonlight as savage bouncers and the Tarkine may be logged to publish proof that future grandmasters could win King and lotsa big stuff vs King and a few specks of dust before their umpteen and a halfth birthday. Resignation is only allowed if (i) the position is a clearly drawn pawn ending and the opponent has just tried to Actually Do Something or (ii) you just kinda don't like your position, not really sure why, just a kinda vague feeling of impending DOOOOOOOM, um ...

A draw may be offered only if your name is Andrew, your surname isn't Brown or Pan and you are pretty much losing (in which case it must be accepted at once), or if you are on board 1, have had a spiffing day, and wish the gallery to be aware that the scary Under 12 World Champ isn't gunna beat you after all. If the position is totally dead drawn, etiquette demands that whoever is to move must immediately panic and resign.

(The above is just your editor being really silly with Elephant font and is not intended seriously. Anyone who thinks otherwise is a mafflard but still isn't half as weird as some of the twaddle about "pro junior bias" your editor was accused of by a Chesschat poster yesterday!)

Round 3 Under 18

Almost a draw, but Bobby plays the minor piece ding better. 39.Kd2 would have kept white in e game.
