

IMPROV: BUSINESS

What sort of employee are you looking for? What makes your workforce excel?
The answers are universal - strong team players, creative problem solvers, and effective communicators.
Develop these skills in the team you have - with Improv.

Leadership Links

Through Improv, participants practice these skills in an accessible and welcoming space that encourages taking risks, having fun and making everyone awesome.

Innovation

There are no wrong answers. Practice following ideas to see where they lead you.

Confidence

Face your fears. Confidence comes from being comfortable when out on a limb.

Agility

Improv develops the mindset of adapting to change, saying yes to new ideas, and letting go of your assumptions.

Team Building

Communication skills are sharpened by listening and reacting in the moment. The shared experience brings teams together.

Businesses around the world are discovering the power of Improv to make them more awesome. Absolutely everyone can do it. Absolutely everyone will benefit from it.
