Manna Project International awarded $27,476 grant by Walmart Mexico and Central America!

This incredible new partnership with Walmart will enable us to increase the scope and impact of our work in La Chureca, the largest municipal dump in Latin America. This project will support young mothers and their children, and is focused on addressing critical needs facing the population, such as extreme poverty, under/unemployment and poor health. With the new investment, we plan to pilot a livelihood project and a comprehensive nutrition program for the 25 mothers and 50 children enrolled in our Child Sponsorship program. These two projects, coupled with our current work at the Casa Base de Salud Clinic, will enable MPI to have an even greater impact on families in La Chureca. Read more >>
