Thanks to outgoing board members Luke Putnam (MPI co-founder), Greg Pasquali, and Maria Domanskis, who have helped Manna grow in significant ways. We wish them all the best, and we also extend our thanks to five very board members joining Zak Liozko, Catherine, Michelle Carage, and Liz Schellhase as the board.

Check out this new video on the PD experience by current Ecuador PD, Nicole Hamilton.

Nicaragua site is excited to host one of our partner organizations, Austin Samaritans, later this month.

Feb. 18 - MPI cap at Georgetown University Non-Profit career fair – 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. More info

Feb. 27 - Next Program Director app. deadline.

Meet our new Board members!

Chris Taylor - New Haven, CT
Chris is currently pursuing his MBA at Yale and looking to enter a career in healthcare strategy and operations. Before business school, Chris spent four years with MPI in several different capacities. He first served as a Program Director in Nicaragua and later became MPI’s first U.S. Director. Read more >>

Simon Bowers - Boston, MA
Simon Bowers is a public relations and marketing professional with 6+ years of experience. Simon was first introduced to Manna Project International (MPI) two years ago in a microbus on the dusty roads of Guatemala, as the directors were scouting for the next international site. Read more >>

Mark Strand - Milwaukee, WI
Mark is an Investment Associate at the First Light Ventures, an Atlanta-based seed fund that invests in for-profit startups focused on greatly alleviating and access to energy. Before that, Mark founded the MPI-Ecuador site, and co-founded and led MPI’s chapter at Vanderbilt. Read more >>

Laura Burgweger - Washington, DC
After graduating from Syracuse University with a BA in Psychology, Lauren began her career at GMAC, a non-profit, ultimately advancing the position of Director of Marketing and Special Events. Currently, Lauren is getting her MBA from George Washington University. Read more >>

Jo Anna Faith - Boulder, Colorado
Jo Anna Faith lives in Boulder, and practices law in Denver, Colorado. Her interest with Manna Project International began in 1998 when her daughter Annie was one of the first program directors in Nicaragua. She visited that year and then she five years later as an MPI Advisory Board Member. Read more >>

Privacy Policy - Email Preferences - Unsubscribe © 2012 Manna Project Intl.