Meet Guadelupe, one of my closest friends here... She has participated in our loan program twice and most recently received a $200 loan to support her jewelry business. She also provides courses to empower other women by teaching them how to make similar products. Her goal is to promote women’s economic independence in the household in addition to improving the economic situation of each family. What an inspiration! Guadelupe lives in a two room house and she and her husband share the bedroom with her two children, Tammy and Orlando. Several years ago, they began constructing a new house with three bedrooms but were unable to complete the project due to lack of finances. With this loan she hopes to make greater quantity, and earn enough income, to finish their new home.

Her long-term dream is to open a workshop in this new house, where she could teach classes more efficiently and help more women and their families. Our team is very excited to help her grow her business.

Will you help us empower more women like Guadelupe, so they can help their families?
