

HURRICANES HARVEY & IRMA UPDATE

Adventist Disaster Response

Minnie McNeil, Director
AEC ACS 09/12/17

This morning I am sending a Praise Report about how wonderful is our God; as we do our best, He surely does the rest!

This past weekend Damali Caine, Chaplain; Pine Forge Academy along with her team, organized the assembling of 9,600 personal care kits with 4 schools, to be distributed to survivors of Hurricane Harvey. The schools were Pine Forge Academy and Jesse R Wagner Elementary of Allegheny East and Blue Mountain Academy and Reading Junior Academy of Pennsylvania Conference.

The efforts were supported by our AEC President, Elder H.L Fordham as he filled his kits in the assembly line along with the principals and staff of each school.

On Sabbath afternoon Willow Grove and Walnut Street Adventist Churches and guests, and community members along with Elder Larry Williams (Trinity Temple) completed the task, and at the closing count there were 10,200 personal care kits!!!!. I personally appreciate the assistance of Patricia Lewis, Calvin

Taylor and Pastor Ronald Reeves in each of their skills in helping to bring this project to fruition.

Meanwhile we received long distance help as NJ Conference churches packed 325 kits and notes of encouragement were mailed from Calvary Adventist School and Theresa Brinkley Christian Home School.

As Hurricane Irma made landfall, I am pleased to share with you that Adventists around the Division are volunteering their time and talent. Please read the attached to see what USA Today had to say about the work of Adventists.

Thank you for your continuing prayers for survivors, families that have lost family members and those that respond and are often in harms' way.

Finally, we do not know the path of Hurricane Jose; stay prepared.
