Keith Gilmore Prize for Beef Cattle Innovation

Purpose: Support Excellence and leadership for applicants in advanced studies leading to a career in the beef industry. Areas of study are broadly defined but include areas such as animal science, range management, forage and feeding, genetics, communications and business.

Award: Up to 2 scholarships of $10,000 may be awarded each year.

Closing date for Applications is June 1.

Applicant Eligibility:

1. Applicants must be entered in senior undergraduate (entering the final year), veterinary, or post-graduate studies.
2. A person may only receive this scholarship once.

Application Process:

1. Submit a standard resume outlining extracurricular activities, including community activities, leadership activities, school involvement and achievement.
2. Post-secondary transcript.
3. An essay of 1500 words or less outlining your career goals.
4. Three letters of reference from individuals not related to the applicant.
5. Demonstration of registration in an education program related to the livestock industry.

Selection Process:

Applications will be reviewed and ranked by the Keith Gilmore Foundation Board of Trustees. Applications will be scored on;

- Academic achievement
- Volunteer activities
- Leadership potential within the livestock industry.

Successful Applicants will be required to provide proof of enrollment/tuition fees being paid before any KGF scholarship cheque will be distributed.

Completed applications can be mailed (postmarked no later than June 1) or emailed in their entirety to the KGF office.
