

Kingdom Advance

May-July 2016

We hope that you are having a great summer. After returning at the end of April, I have personally been on a whirl wind with the many responsibilities of family, business and ministry. In Uganda our team is in the process of building our first Christian Community Center building in Kyunga District. It will serve as a local church but also as a center for leadership training, education, medical missions and business training. The plans are in process and we expect it to be completed by our October Pastors and Leaders Conferences.

If you are interested in participating on a missions trip for conferences, training seminars, construction, medical missions or working with children, please contact me at messengersofhope2014@gmail.com.

God bless you all and thank you for your prayers and support!

Team Reports

Last April I had the great pleasure of working with Messengers of Hope, assisting with the Pastors and Leaders Conference in Uganda. Team leader David Hacker did a fantastic job working out the details and providing vision for the mission. Pastor Mark Nysewander also supplied valuable knowledge, powerful communication, and inspiration to the team. After working in Africa for over 13 years, I will remember this experience as a highlight of missionary service.

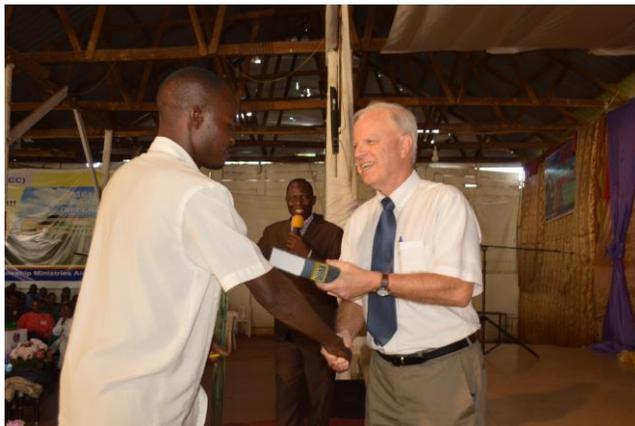

Accompanied by my wife Annette, and associate Barbara Walter we were introduced to the ministry of Hands of Love and the servant leadership team from Kampala International Christian Centre. We each agree that we were blessed, honored, and fortunate to collaborate together in the advancement of God's kingdom with such wonderful and dedicated people. Messengers of Hope and Hands of Love are powerful ministries with extensive vision, making a deep impact and filling a great need in the nation of Uganda. They are worthy of support and partnership and I look forward to working together with them in future endeavors.

My recent mission trip with Messengers of Hope to Uganda proved to be one of the most encouraging times of ministry I have experienced in missions. Several reasons come to mind for making this trip so important.

1. Bishop Elijah and the Ugandan believers we worked with in Hands of Love demonstrated values in their ministry beyond what I have seen in most ministries around the world or in the States. They showed true servant leadership, absolute commitment to prayer and faith for a national impact of the Gospel. Their desire was not for self-promotion or enrichment but to humbly serve the nation's believers and people.

2. David Hacker and Bishop Elijah with the ministry of Messengers of Hope are putting together mission trips with a purpose. Everything done in these ministry experiences are to enhance the move of the Spirit over the nation of Uganda and surrounding countries. This is not just an isolated mission trip. Whether it is conferences, building or working at Hands of Love homes these trips contribute toward a greater work that God is raising up in the land.

3. The opportunities for ministry were not at a distance. We were given hands on ministry with the leaders and pastors of so many communities. It was an honor to be invited to speak and minister to those who are giving themselves in great sacrifice for the spread of the gospel of Jesus Christ. I was welcomed into the heart of the people.

4. This was a Spirit anointed effort. There was a constant desire to hear and obey the direction of the Holy Spirit throughout our time together. It was true New Testament ministry.

Messengers of Hope is a ministry with a purpose and commitment that measure up to Kingdom values. I'm grateful for David and Bishop Elijah and their invitation to join them in seeing Uganda supernaturally transformed with the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
