The Jassy Dean Trust provides financial support for Waiheke kids with health needs

OUR STORY

The Jassy Dean Trust began in 1993 and was born out of gratitude for the love and support the Dean family received from the Waiheke community when their teenage daughter, Jassy, was stricken with Meningococcal Meningitis and died.

The Trust is a voluntary community organisation. Our purpose is to support Waiheke tamariki with their health and wellbeing needs. Our vision is to empower Waiheke families, and our wider community, with resources to improve the health and wellbeing of tamariki.

The Waiheke Garden Festival has been the Trust's major fundraising event for 23 years. Many locals have been involved in this iconic event either by generously opening their gardens, volunteering to run the event, sponsoring or by attending this much loved event.

HOW TO GIVE?

We are extremely grateful for the support of our community. Your generosity makes a big impact to the lives of Waiheke children and families in need. To make a donation please visit - givealittle.co.nz/org/jassydean

HOW TO GET SUPPORT?

Applying for support is easy and strictly confidential. No request is too big or too small. For more information, visit our website jassydeantrust.org/apply

Garden 1

14 Tawa Street, Oneroa

Robin and Graham Radford

Ten years ago, this ½ acre garden presented its new owners with little more than a steep slope, an olive tree, a few fruit trees, a lot of punga and a view over magical Little Oneroa Bay. Robin and Graham set about developing the property by introducing garden-lined paths. Their creative landscaping now makes it an easy wander down the slope to a lushly underplanted punga grove. The emphasis is on colour and exotic texture, both are amply provided by a rich variety of plants including hibiscus, canna and numerous large potted specimens of bromeliad and geranium. There are several highly productive, large, raised vegetable beds and still that lovely view over Little Oneroa Bay.

Garden 2

8 Shelly Beach Road, Surfdale

Simon and Mary Wright

This beautiful and productive seaside garden is overflowing with glorious flowers, fruit trees, berry plants and a bountiful veggie garden. Mary and Simon purchased the flat section overlooking beautiful Putaki Bay fourteen years ago and have created a tranquil haven full of birdsong and fragrant plants. A recent addition to the garden is a modern, fully automated hen house where a brood of much-loved chooks enjoy a five-star living. Waiheke landscape designer Lyndell Shannon has influenced much of this special property's more recent design, and local gardener Damian Wendleborne has also provided helpful advice. While you are here, relax and enjoy tea or coffee and scones. Available until midday each day. Local piano accordionist Pauline Stewart will provide the music.

Garden 3

119 Wilma Road, Surfdale

Poppy and Jason Judkins

The property comprises 10 acres of vineyard, native bush and paddock with the acre around the house devoted to garden. A 'work in progress' of 20 years. As Poppy and Jason established the garden, they created separate spaces for different uses. There are open lawns with structured hedging and a pagoda for long vineyard lunches. A tropical oasis close to the house shelters the swimming pool from the wind. Hidden away is a quirky cottage garden filled with fruit trees, and vegetable beds. The property is shared with Dolly the Donkey and Roxy the Highland Heifer, both long term residents.

A CRAFT STALL will be held in the garden with all proceeds going to the Jassy Dean Trust. EFTPOS available.

Garden 4

45 Albert Crescent, Putiki Bay

Rachel Stace and Richard Stewart

Rachel has been a passionate gardener for as long as she can remember, and Richard is a professional horticulturist and landscaper. Their combined talents are obvious in this outstanding garden. A variety of plantings cover the 1391m<sup>2</sup> sloped site, with well-built steps, a magnificent boardwalk and a stunning sea view over Putiki Bay. Meandering paths take you through a range of terraced gardens of exotic, sub-tropical and native plants. There are raised macrocarpa vegetable gardens, a fruit orchard, a hibiscus garden, and a slope of multi-coloured abutilon. There is a small shade house for potting, a variety of nut trees, tropical fruit and a native area. Every group of plants has been thoughtfully placed offering visitors an inspirational experience. Access to this garden is via a free shuttle bus from the corner shop on Ostend Road where you may park your car. Many thanks to Waiheke High School for donating the use of the shuttle.

Garden 5

Te Whau Retreat, 200 Te Whau Drive

The owners of this seven-acre property have transformed a 'post-build' raw and scarred clay landscape into well-established gardens that feel as if they have always been there over six years. They aimed to create a journey that reflected the landscape of Waiheke, to mix native and non-native plants, to restore the land and to invite in the bird life. At the heart of the home, there is an internal courtyard planted with native plants grown from seedlings. It is tiled with handmade clay tiles and boasts a stunning homemade shade sail, both the work of the owner. The influence of Fiji is evident in the garden with tropical plantings of banana, sugar cane, curry leaves, chilli, frangipani and hibiscus all thriving. This garden has been the main creative outlet for the owner. New paintings will be on display from talented local artist Tom Wilson who had a sell-out local show earlier this year, with a portion of sales benefitting the Jassy Dean Trust.

Garden 6

16 Scotts Terrace, Onetangi
Margie and John Hatrick-Smith

This stunning garden is linked from the roadside entrance to the regenerating Forest & Bird Reserve below, through a series of cascading paths, garden beds and terraces. A wall of espaliered citrus greets the visitor at the top, followed by vegetable gardens, a thriving orchard with cutting flowers and beds of ornamentals. All levels provide space for relaxation and watching the abundant bird life. The forest is full of kanuka, nikau and ponga with new plantings of thriving koekoe, tanekaha and kauri. Plants have often been chosen in memory of favourite people, chocolate irises named after Margie's grandmother, May, Auntie Mandy's runner beans and Uncle Bruce's dwarf beans.

This property is only accessible by bike or free shuttle bus from Onetangi Hall. Many thanks to GO Rentals Waiheke for donating the use of the shuttle bus.

Garden 7

375 Waiheke Road, Onetangi
Sandra and Peter Turley-Miller

Large sections of regenerated forest share space with spectacular rural views, border gardens, broad lawns and twisted flower-edged paths in a garden full of colour and variety. The 6 ½ hectare property, purchased in 1971 was originally part of the Pie Melon Bay Farm. Over the past 50 years much of the land has reverted naturally to regenerating bush. Sandra and Peter have actively encouraged this process by planting multiple kauri, rimu and other natives throughout the forest. Six and a half years ago they moved to live permanently on the island and set about establishing new vegetable and flower gardens.

Internationally acclaimed botanical artist, Sue Wickison, will have merchandise on display with a percentage of sales donated to the Jassy Dean Trust.

Nearly two acres in size, it offers vast variety and will fascinate all gardeners, regardless of whether you own a small block or a huge property. Innovative landscaping showcases gorgeous plantings and mini gardens full of colourful flowers, lush foliage, summer vegetable patches and an orchard. Meander across the immaculate lawns and paths where trees and shrubs draw you to wide open spaces. ## Garden 9

57-59 Cory Road, Palm Beach

Alison and Paul Dyson

Alison and Paul have owned this 9.5-acre property for over 12 years. The heart of the garden and the owners' abiding passion is the impressive regeneration of the native forest that tumbles down to Palm Beach. Alison and Paul have also created 'home gardens' with diverse plants and flowers that thrive on the island.

The 'crown jewel' is the vegetable garden where a steep, unusable north-facing site has been transformed into a terraced and productive garden. Raised beds are built of Corten steel and shaded with herb hedges protecting from the strong summer sun, a delightful and effective use of the space resulting in abundant crops at the same time offering an attractive sculptural quality. There is a roughly formed loop bush walking track accessible for more adventurous visitors.

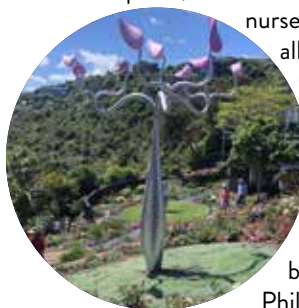

The work of well-known Waiheke artist Zoe Leeb du Toit will be on sale at this garden with a percentage of proceeds donated to the Jassy Dean Trust.

Garden 10

5A Coromandel Road, Oneroa

Sacred Blessing Sanctuary Garden

Sacred Blessing Sanctuary Garden is enjoyed by visitors from New Zealand and around the world. Set across two acres, this manicured garden features a large diversity of plant species with flowers and colour at the forefront of the garden team's design. From the vast collection of roses, the fragrant herb and perennial gardens to the soothing woodland, fernery and tropicals; and the interesting working, composting and nursery areas. There is something for all to discover, experience and relax within, as you share the garden with the multitude of birds, bees and butterflies that call this beautiful garden home. Harmoniously set within the garden is a permanent collection of significant sculptures by eminent NZ sculptors Paul Dibble, Phil Price and Ray Haydon to capture your imagination.
