

VEGETARIANISM • ENVIRONMENTALISM • ANIMAL ADVOCACY • SOCIAL JUSTICE

SATYA

February 2007

Here and There

Social and Environmental Justice in a Changing World

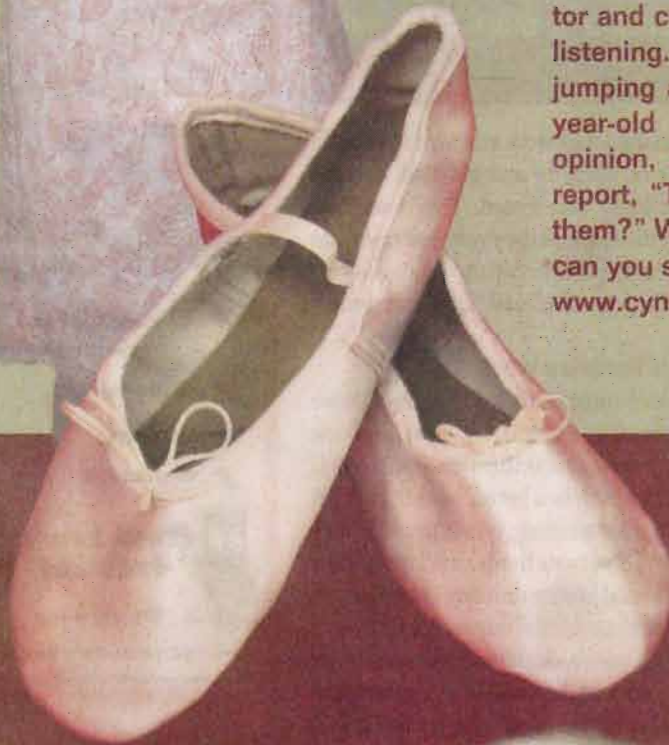

We Like It!

Cynthia King Dance Studios Vegan Ballet Slippers

We are certainly not qualified to critique ballet slippers, which is why we took them directly to Sadie, the niece of Satya's publisher, a four year-old, self-described "Princess Ballerina." We told her all about Cynthia King, a vegan dance instructor and creator of these slippers, but Sadie wasn't listening. She was far too busy spinning and jumping and doing all of the adorable things four year-old ballerinas do. When pressed for her opinion, Sadie stopped dancing long enough to report, "They're pretty! I LOVE them! Can I keep them?" We told her she could, because really, how can you say no to a Princess Ballerina?
www.cynthiakingdance.com

Uspa's Bamboo Polish Exfoliant

Feeling a little rough around the edges? Global warming destroying your pores? Your dead skin cells' worst nemesis is here: Bamboo Polish Exfoliant. From Australia's newest, all-vegan, cruelty-free line, Uspa, the polish will revitalize and renew your skin and is a perfect tonic for dry elbows, hands, feet and even hineys. Check out their entire line, from skin care to moisturizers and spa treatments to a full line of hair care. Get some U for you!
www.uspa-usa.com

