As DSAW’s self-advocate Board member, I continue to work toward awareness, acceptance, and assistance for people with Down syndrome.

I am still living in my own apartment and working as a child care teacher. I can do this because of the support that DSAW helps me keep in place.

This year, as part of the “Take your legislator to work initiative,” DSAW’s president arranged for Governor Walker to visit my place of work. The Governor saw how people with Down syndrome can have meaningful employment.

2011 was also my first year serving on the Wisconsin Board for People with Developmental Disabilities. This experience helps me as a DSAW Board member. I am honored to work with the DSAW Board.

Andrew Gerbitz, Self-Advocate
Dear Friend:

Thank you for all you do for individuals with Down syndrome and their loved ones, and thank you for being a supporter of the Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin (DSAW). We are proud to say that roughly 90% of the funding for DSAW comes from our members, through general donations, membership renewal dues, and our other fundraising events. As our services grow, our goal is to grow revenue through not only our consistent membership support, but also through new, external support as well.

Your investment in our organization, whether as a member, donor or volunteer, allows DSAW to continue to serve as your partner. It allows DSAW to continue providing resources, referrals, support and education about all aspects of Down syndrome from birth to adulthood.

DSAW continues to make significant strides toward our ultimate objective of Wisconsin being the best-supported state for individuals with Down syndrome, along with their loved ones. We continue to provide top-notch services such as:

- Roadmap sessions with families on topics such as IEP’s, Benefits, Nutrition, Family Care, Employment, Supported Living, Alzheimer’s and Dementia, allowing DSAW staff to provide valuable information and resources to parents and caregivers;

- Distribution of Down syndrome information packets for new and expectant families to hospitals, OB-GYNs and pediatric clinics, genetic counselors, and Birth to 3 programs;

- Monthly e-newsletter and other periodic newsletters to over 2600 households;

- DSAW Sponsored Family Events such as the Annual Summer Picnic, Annual Milwaukee Brewers Tailgate Party, and Annual Holiday Party.

Thank you for supporting the Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin. Please visit us at www.dsav.org for more detail about your organization and our programming.

Sincerely,

Tom O’Day
President
DSAW Board of Directors
People with Down Syndrome are Valued and Included

Mission (what we do)

Our mission at the Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin (DSAW) is simple. We are here to provide support to families and individuals with Down syndrome through education, information, and the exchange of ideas and experiences.

We do that via:

- Our website, www.dsaw.org
- A quarterly newsletter to our members
- New-parent information packets which are provided at hospitals and clinics throughout Wisconsin
- Family matching services
- Community education for members and health professionals
- Special events that bring families and individuals together

Vision (what we want to become)

The vision of DSAW is that we all understand the value of those with Down syndrome in our lives and our communities. We will continue to strive toward full acceptance, full access, full life and full potential.

As a policy, DSAW does not endorse any medical, therapeutic or special education alternatives. We are primarily a volunteer organization that wishes to create an optimistic outlook about Down syndrome for our families and others. The purpose of our website is to provide our members and the general community an educational background about and a source of information on issues related to Down syndrome.

Core Values and Identity

Core Values (our priorities and how we act)

- Optimism for our families and others
- Equality for those with Down syndrome
- Availability to help our members around the state
- Professionalism, experts on Down syndrome and the needs of members of all ages
- Efficiency in how we leverage time (volunteer hours) and treasure (donations)
- Highest level of financial transparency and integrity
- Conservative to ensure we are here for future generations

Identity (what sets us apart)

To our members, volunteers and donors, DSAW has become a very efficient group of leveraged Chapters supporting Wisconsin, governed by a Board of Directors and led by a small nucleus of paid staff to maximize efficiency and provide technical depth across the state. In 2011, we saw the power and value of this Chapter model, and we doubled our programming across the state year over year.

To our Chapters and Advisory Board Members across the state that provide local support to our members: DSAW is excited to support and partner with you as you grow and become self sufficient in your abilities to support your local community.
Our History

The Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin, Inc. was founded 21 years ago by Joan Balliet, a nurse and mother of a child with Down Syndrome. Joan was able to pull together a number of families that all shared a passion to help those with Down syndrome in Wisconsin. As one of the founding families 21 years ago, I (Ron Malloy, DSAW’s current Executive Director) remember two meetings. At the first meeting, we voted on a name for the organization. Joan was emphatic the name must begin with Down syndrome… because it was felt families searching for information on Down syndrome would first open the phone book and look up Down syndrome. Even today many families still find DSAW through the phone book. The second meeting I remember was a huge picnic where families from all across the state got together to share a potluck lunch, DSAW’s first social event.

Dr. David Smith, Joan’s husband at the time, had a sister with Down syndrome. Dr. Smith commented that he thought his sister died at an early age due to complications associated with an undiagnosed case of hypothyroidism. Joan, a nurse, and David, a doctor, were married and living in Maryland in 1985 when their son Charlie was born with Down syndrome. One of the first things they learned was that it was hard to get any information on Down syndrome. There was not a lot of support. As a physician, David went to the library and the most recent book he was able to find on Down syndrome was published in the 1950s. David and Joan were unable to find another family with a child with Down syndrome in Maryland. The family eventually found and was able to meet with Dr. Pueschel in Rhode Island, one of the grandfathers of health care for people with Down syndrome.

When David, Joan and Charlie moved to Wisconsin in 1987, Joan had a few years of experience working the system for Charlie. It was not easy. She dreamed that there would be a statewide organization of support for persons with Down syndrome and their families -- an organization that would educate and help to improve the overall lives of people with Down syndrome. Through her tireless efforts, she was able to pull together families of children with Down syndrome and start what is now the Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin. In the beginning, meetings were scheduled to educate as many professionals as possible. David and Joan offered their services to families with a newly diagnosed child with Down syndrome. New Parent packets were assembled and sent out to as many hospitals, schools and social service organizations as possible. The schools and hospitals needed constant monitoring to make sure they used the information. It was frustrating at times. DSAW was able to create some public service announcements. It was a big step when we were able to place two large billboards showing our pride in persons with Down syndrome, and that they should not be underestimated. The kids were dressed in tuxedoes.
In 1995, DSAW was able to hire its first part-time office manager, Polly Daniels, and started fundraising. In 1997, DSAW was able to open an office on the northwest side of Milwaukee in the Endometriosis Association Building. DSAW utilized volunteers in the office. We did our best to include people with Down syndrome serving in the office. We had a large computerized database of parents and organizations. In 1997, DSAW’s two largest fundraising events were launched, the Buddy Walk and the Golf Outing. In 2000, DSAW added a website giving us the ability to educate and support many more people. Unable to afford the rent, the office was closed for a brief time in 2001 and reopened in 2002. (The office reopened when it was able to find donors willing to underwrite the cost of the office rent.)

Social events were always a big hit. The Christmas party with Santa Claus, which included gifts for all the children, and summer picnics in the parks were a great time for everyone to get together. Fundraisers were always interesting. We staffed one of the food service windows at the old Milwaukee County Stadium. We were able to do one for a Green Bay Packer game when they played in Milwaukee. The Buddy Walks, now named our Down Syndrome Awareness Walk, started in Milwaukee in 1997. The 1st walk raised $5,000 and had 75 walkers. In 2011, five walks were hosted across the state which were attended by 4,500+ walkers. In 2000, a statewide conference in central Wisconsin was organized to celebrate our 10 year anniversary which emphasized that we were a statewide organization. The conference was held in Stevens Point, funded by a grant received from the Forest County Potawatomi Foundation. The conference was a huge success. It was soon after that event that Joan Balliet stepped aside and others took over the organization. DSAW is still going today. That is a testament to a strong start, a solid organization, and a definitive need for resources, support and education on issues surrounding Down syndrome.

In 2007, DSAW was approached by several advisory board members to start a Chapter in their community. In 2009, DSAW moved the office into the Marian Center for Nonprofits for cost savings and nonprofit synergy. As we enter 2012, we have four Chapters across the state (Chippewa Valley, Fox Cities, Green Bay, and Sheboygan) and our main office in St. Francis, a suburb of Milwaukee.
2011 Annual Report - Accomplishments

- Created and distributed quarterly newsletter to 800 households.
- Created and distributed monthly eBlasts to DSAW listserv with over 3,500 subscribers.
- DSAW Sponsored Community Education Workshop included Toilet Training and Mental Health and Wellness for Adults with Down syndrome.
- DSAW Sponsored Self Advocate Events included World Down Syndrome Day Valentine’s Day Dance and Annual Halloween Dance.
- DSAW D.A.D.S. (Dads Appreciating Down Syndrome) Chapter held 12 monthly meetings; 4 educational seminars: Speech, Respite, Behavior and IEP’s; and 3 family events: Halloween Train Ride, Rockin Summer Picnic, and the Brewers Game.
- DSAW co-sponsored its 4th Annual Lose The Training Wheels Bike Camp with The Autism Society of Southeastern Wisconsin. Seventy volunteers and forty young people with Down syndrome, autism and other disabilities participated. After one week, camper success rate was at 80%.
- DSAW hosted three major fundraising events, including a partnership with the 15th Annual Tom Pipines Golf Classic attended by over 100 golfers that raised over $22,000; and, the 15th Annual Down Syndrome Awareness Walk attended by over 1,700 individuals with Down syndrome, their families, and friends and raised close to $109,000.
- DSAW conducted one Self Determination Training for Teachers in New Berlin, WI and two IEP Seminars, one in Fox Cities and one in Stevens Point, a sibling workshop, a puberty workshop, a health and mental wellness in adults with Down syndrome seminar and a toilet training seminar.
- DSAW conducted twenty School Based Peer Sensitivity Presentations to raise awareness and promote acceptance of Down syndrome within the classroom.
- DSAW conducted sixty 1:1 Benefits Roadmap Sessions allowing DSAW staff to provide valuable information and resources to parents / caregivers in order to enhance the quality of life of their loved one with Down syndrome. Each session addressed either overcoming a challenge or achieving a dream.
The IEP Seminar, Road Map Review by Ron Malloy was the first time that I knew exactly what being part of Angelina’s IEP Team actually meant. I was inspired to become so much more involved in her goals for now and for the future. Road Map Reviews helped me and showed me that my daughter has rights and deserves to have me on her team as an active player.

The Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin is staffed by one full-time Executive Director and a part time Office Manager. Each staff member is a strong community advocate and proud parent of a child with Down syndrome.

DSAW staff is focused on delivering value to our members through our many educational and medical outreach trainings, awareness events and social events. Our member services include detailed one-on-one roadmap sessions, our parent connect program and information referrals.

Our staff has significant domain knowledge and hands on experience in the areas of:

- I.F.S.P., Individual Family Service Plan
- I.E.P., Individualized Education Program
- C.L.T.S., Children's Long Term Waiver
- Medical Assistance Personal Care
- Katie Beckett
- Birth to Three
- Early Childhood
- Transition (Elementary, Middle, High School, Community)
- Employment
- Self Employment of People with Down syndrome
- I.R.I.S., Include Respect I Self Direct
- Family Care
- Self Determination
- Community Supported Living
- Supportive Home Care
- Supplemental Trusts
- Peer Sensitivity
- Guardianship
- Transportation
- Dual Diagnosis Autism
- Celiac Disease
- Major Medical (Heart, Duodenal Artresia…)

We do not give medical or legal advice. For the above topics, office staff is able to meet with families and explain a topic in detail, how to apply or access the program and most importantly we are able to specifically talk about how the program will help a person with Down syndrome. We describe these in-depth discussions as roadmap discussions. They typically last two hours and members leave with a detailed understanding of the topic and a roadmap. In other cases, we provide simple informational referrals.
The Down Syndrome Association of WI – Chippewa Valley (DSAW-CV) is a resource in West Central Wisconsin for individuals with Down syndrome, their families, as well as others who support them.

We are here to provide support to families and individuals, as well as professionals in the surrounding communities, through education, information, and the exchange of ideas and experiences.

DSAW-Chippewa Valley has been affiliated with DSAW, Inc. since 2008 and continues to be a growing chapter, always welcoming new families and volunteers.

History
The Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin – Green Bay Connection has been in existence since the early 1990’s. Formed by a small group of parents as a networking and support group, and funded by the local ARC, the group gained members quickly. In 2003, the local ARC discontinued support of the group and organizers began looking into ways to raise money to keep activities accessible to all families. In 2008, the group became a regional chapter of the Down Syndrome Association of Wisconsin. In 2009, the first Down Syndrome Awareness Walk was held, raising over $2,000.00. In 2011, the walk raised over $11,000.00. Currently there are approximately 100 supported families across five counties in northeastern Wisconsin.

Prenatal Diagnosis Education and Medical Outreach Program

Down syndrome is by far the most common chromosomal abnormality; therefore, the Down syndrome community is the first to address how the lack of information, quality of information, and personal physician bias impact decisions made by expectant parents.

Other disability groups will monitor and learn from the actions or inactions of the Down syndrome community. When genetic counselors and physicians were surveyed about giving a prenatal diagnosis of Down syndrome, 15% of genetic counselors and 37% of physicians used their own personal bias to sway an expectant parent’s decision on how to react to the diagnosis.

Studies by the Special Olympics and by The American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG) show that:

- 81% of medical students report, “not getting any clinical training regarding individuals with Down syndrome.”
- 58% of medical deans say such training is not a high priority.
- 45% of The American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists fellows and junior fellows rated their training as “barely adequate or non-existent.”
- Only 28% of ACOG fellows felt “well qualified” in prenatal genetic counseling.

In 2012, we will pursue grants to fund our Prenatal Medical Outreach program. This program will position DSAW to be a resource to medical professionals by training them to give a balanced and unbiased, accurate and up-to-date, and compassionate diagnosis of Down syndrome to expectant parents. Dr. Brian Skotko will conduct Grand Rounds where he will go around a hospital and talk to obstetricians about a new test called MaterniT21™ PLUS and Down syndrome. Each physician will be formally invited to attend lunch with Dr. Skotko to learn more about MaterniT21™ PLUS, how to deliver a compassionate diagnosis and how to talk about what Down syndrome is and isn’t. Physicians and genetisits will be given tear-sheets provided by DSAW which will include valuable information on what it means to receive a Down syndrome diagnosis and give expectant parents contact information for DSAW to get more accurate up-to-date information on what the diagnosis means.

When doctors deliver a prenatal diagnosis of Down syndrome, he or she will give the parent(s) one of these informative sheets. Printed on the cardboard back of the pad will be information for doctors on how they can receive up-to-date balanced information on a Down syndrome diagnosis. We will also provide expectant parents with informative Down syndrome pregnancy packages and then provide them with new parent packages (available in English and in Spanish), a supportive and understanding community of parents of children with Down syndrome, and educational programs to help them become effective advocates for their children.

In 2012, we expect this new program to serve 200 families from a variety of cultural and socio-economic backgrounds across the state. Three new blood tests are now available that identify an unborn baby with Down syndrome with 97% - 100% accuracy depending on the test, with no risk to the baby.
