

Fragile Heart

You hold me now
For too long I thought I could go alone
Scattered dreams, all my hopes trampled on the floor
Too many times before

I'm hoping now You would write Your name upon my paper heart
Words of love to hold to when it feels we're worlds apart
Turn my life around, give me a brand new start,
Set my feet on solid ground

You wrote Your name on my fragile heart,
Called me Your own, set me apart
You took my shame, and now I am free,
My life You changed loving me
And I knew when You signed Your name
I'd never be the same

Looking now through a looking glass so clear I am found
With Your grace I stand secure and strong on solid ground
You turned my life around, gave me a brand new start
When You wrote upon my heart

You wrote Your name on my fragile heart,
Called me Your own, set me apart
You took my shame, and now I am free,
My life You changed loving me
And I knew when You signed Your name

You turned my life around, gave me a brand new start
You set my feet on solid ground

You wrote Your name on my fragile heart,
Called me Your own, set me apart
You took my shame, and now I am free,
My life You changed loving me
And I knew when You signed Your name
I'd never be the same
