Juanita Jacobs

Currently, Juanita is employed as the Senior Science Curriculum Area Leader at Villanova College but has been a teacher of Biology, Chemistry and Religion for over 25 years. Juanita has held positions of added responsibility in both curriculum and pastoral care roles such as Head of House, Year 12 Coordinator, Acting Curriculum Coordinator and Acting Vice-Principal for Teaching and Learning.

Juanita was a student at Loreto College, completed a Science degree from the University of Queensland, majoring in Physiology and Biochemistry, before completing a Graduate Diploma in Secondary Education at McAuley College (now Australian Catholic University) and a Masters' degree in Education at Queensland University of Technology.

For the past fourteen years Juanita has worked extensively with the QCAA, teachers and school moderators in the role of Brisbane Central District Review Panel Chair for Biology and, most recently, has supported QCAA in the development and implementation of the new senior assessment processes for both Biology and Chemistry. She was the acting SEO for Biology in Semester 2, 2013 and a member of the QCAA Senior Curriculum and Assessment working group in 2015, which responded to the government's request to review the senior assessment processes. Currently, Juanita is acting as Chief Assessor for the trial endorsement processes for the new Biology syllabus. As a member of the Expert Writing Team - Biology, she was responsible for writing the 2017 Senior Biology Syllabus, consulting with all the science writing teams and QCAA on the development of the assessment processes in the senior science syllabuses.

Nigel Page

Nigel Page is currently Head of Humanities, Years 10-12, at Anglican Church Grammar School. In 2016 he worked for the QCAA as Learning Area Manager HASS, overseeing the redevelopment of the 10 Humanities and Business syllabuses as they underwent revisions with the Expert Writing Groups, and was Chair of the Business Learning Area Review Group. He has had experience with the QCAA assessment processes, being Chief Examiner for the Economics external assessment trial and its marking operations, and was directly involved in the development of the ISMGs and other facets of the new Syllabuses' assessment. More recently he contributed sample subject matter to accompany the QCAA Modern History syllabus.
