

Righteousness

Written by Adam Land and Melanie Disa
© 2015 Adam Land and Melanie Disa

Wash upon mercy's shore, hey hey
Dark waves return me here, oh Lord
The water's edge is where I lay, hey
I hear your steps, so pure and straight

Take this night, your candle's bright
Take the sins of the land in your mighty hand
Cast them far away, Jesus to You I pray for your righteousness your righteousness, righteousness

Can I rise by your side
Leave the sand for ground far from these tides
Behind I hear the ocean roar, oh
I will not fear for I am yours

Take this night, your candle's bright
Take the sins of the land in your mighty hand
Cast them far away, Jesus to You I pray
for your righteousness your righteousness, your righteousness

On mercy's shore, I'll find my righteousness
On mercy's shore, I'll find my righteousness
Shadows break like surf on your righteousness

On mercy's shore, I'll find my righteousness
On mercy's shore, I'll find my righteousness
Shadows break like surf on your righteousness

The Rescuer has come, marching clear and strong

Take this night, your candle's bright
Take the sins of the land in your mighty hand
Cast them far away, Jesus to You I pray
for your righteousness your righteousness, your righteousness