I was broken sold into bondage
With shackles and chains around
But You never left my side

I was broken sold into bondage
All these fears and pains around

Now You've given me eyes to see
And You're calling me to go
I will walk this faithful path You lead
And I will bring it all to You
Yes I'll release it Lord to You

I was broken sold into bondage
With shackles and chains around

I was broken sold into bondage
And this sorrow and shame surround
No You never left my side

And You've given me eyes to see
And You're calling me to go
I will walk this faithful path You lead
And I will bring it all to You
Yes I'll release it Lord to You

Like water on the Nile
You carry me to my new home
Like stars up in the heavens You reign
I was never once alone

Now You've given me eyes to see
And You're calling me to go
I will walk this faithful path You lead
And I will bring it all to You
Yes I'll release it Lord to You
