We recommend taking a peak in the case!

Bar Vivant is a re-creation of the neighborhood watering holes in San Sebastián offering inexpensive, bite sized pintxos washed down by copious amounts of Txakoli poured from great heights. Bar snacks of the highest quality! In San Sebastián, the patrons stand up as they banter about their day and their families, have another pintxo, maybe a cider, and toss their dirty napkins on the floor to keep the tables clean – we encourage you to do the same.

Conservas

Spanish “conservas” are preserved fish, meats and vegetables packed in jars, but more famously in cans.

The Spanish view conservas as an art form, choosing only the best quality products from their distinguished regions of origin. In the Barcelona area, bars like Quimet & Quimet and Espinaler base all their tapas on conservas. The best part? High quality conservas actually improve with age in the can!
