Enable all students to become engaged in innovative educational approaches for literacy development across the content areas.

› Use students’ familiarity with rap and other engaging art forms to connect to important content concepts and literacy skills.
› Work creatively with students to master concepts in English language arts, social studies, science, and mathematics in order to meet College and Career Readiness and other standards across the content areas.
› Address content-area concepts, vocabulary, and literacy skills deemed essential for proficiency through activities, texts, and online materials.
› Incorporate strategies and step-by-step protocols for engaging students’ personal interests as centerpieces for instruction.

Author Focus Rosalie Fink
Rosalie Fink, Ed.D., is Professor of Literacy Emeritus at Lesley University in Cambridge, Massachusetts. A former classroom teacher and literacy specialist in New York public schools, she received her doctorate at The Harvard Graduate School of Education, where she was an invited Visiting Scholar in Education and won a Spencer Post-Doctoral Research Fellowship. She is the author of many articles and two books chosen by the International Literacy Association as Book Club Selections: Why Jane and John Couldn’t Read: And How They Learned and Inspiring Reading Success: Interest and Motivation in an Age of High-Stakes Testing. Dr. Fink gives workshops and lectures at conferences for teachers, parents, and administrators.
